

Air Force Says Rocket May be Put in Orbit

Signals May be Too Weak to Hear, Authorities Assert

Inglewood, Calif. —(AP)—The air force thinks its Discoverer I rocket may have gone into some kind of orbit—and is simply having trouble raising its voice enough to let the world know for sure.

Authorities say tracking stations have picked up "sporadic signals," which tend to confirm that an orbit has been attained. Further checks will be made, they say, to try to pin down the rocket.

Discoverer I, the first space vehicle aimed into an orbit which would carry it over both the North and South poles, was launched Saturday from Vandenberg Air Force base, 170 miles north of Los Angeles.

Ship Gets Signals
A navy ship 900 miles south of the base received faint signals from the bullet-shaped missile shortly after it was fired. Then, for hours, there was nothing.

Officials speculated something may have gone wrong with the radio equipment in the 1,300-pound projectile.

Last night the air force ballistic missile division here reported: "Additional study of data re-

5 Soviet Ships Detained in Philippines

Manila —(AP)—The Philippine navy assigned two patrol boats today to escort five Soviet trawlers to a naval base while authorities investigated the Russians' appearance in a bay of northernmost Luzon.

Rough weather, however, delayed the transfer. Strong winds forced the trawlers and the patrol boats to turn back soon after they set out for the Poro Point Naval station on Luzon's west coast. Navy authorities said the trip would be made when the weather clears.

A foreign office spokesman said the investigation might take another day or so. The 100 or so Russians aboard the trawlers were reported impatient about their detention.

Engine Breaks Down
"We are taking nothing for granted," the spokesman said.

The visitors dropped anchor Friday at Dique inlet, on the northwest tip of Luzon, when one of their engines broke down. It has since been repaired.

Navy authorities sent out a boarding party to investigate the following day and have kept the vessels under close guard since. Defense Secretary Jesus Vargas issued orders today to move the vessels 100 miles south to Poro point.

The navy turned down an earlier request from the trawlers that they be permitted to sail for Vladivostok.

Russia Agrees to Take Part In Foreign Ministers' Talks

Still Urges Conference At Summit

Moscow —(AP)—The Soviet Union renewed today its call for summit talks on Berlin and Germany, but said it will take part in a foreign ministers' conference if the west is not yet ready for a meeting of heads of state.

The U.S.S.R. suggested either the heads of state or the foreign ministers should meet next month in Vienna or Geneva, agreeing in advance to complete their work in two to three months.

In addition to the Soviet Union, the United States, Britain and France, Moscow said, Poland, Czechoslovakia and East and West Germany should participate.

The Soviet position was set forth in notes delivered just before Prime Minister Macmillan of Britain conferred in the Kremlin with Premier Khrushchev. They talked for nearly two hours.

Sees Gradual Gains

In a speech prepared for delivery to Soviet television viewers, Macmillan declared it was possible to achieve improved relations between Britain and the Soviet Union "if we can make a start and go forward step by step." He added:

"Agreement on one thing leads to agreement on another. It's the first step that counts. That's why I'm here."

He urged that the two nations "avoid acts which disturb the existing position anywhere in the world to the other's disadvantage."

Today's note to the United States repeated earlier Soviet warnings that western use of weapons to maintain the present occupation status of West Berlin would lead to war.

Cooperation Possible

Moscow has threatened to turn its own occupation functions over to communist East Germany on May 27 unless agreement is reached with the western Big Three. The western allies fear the communist East Germans would then try to cut off West Berlin from the non-communist world.

The Moscow radio summary said the Soviet Union "emphasizes that there is now still a possibility of returning to 4-power cooperation on the important question of Germany."

The note remarked, however, that a U.S. note on the subject Feb. 18, expressed de-

Early Decision on Withholding Tax

Nelson Still Undecided on System Now Under Study

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — Gov. Nelson today insisted that he has not yet made up his mind about proposing a state income tax withholding law, but then proceeded to outline the virtues of such a system at such length and with such enthusiasm as to make it virtually certain that he will offer such a plan to the legislature.

The governor made his remarks at a conference with Capitol reporters, in which he said he will have a final decision this month. He said the only obstacle to his endorsement to withholding is some doubts about the costs and methods of administration which he now is studying with the help of the state department of taxation.

Combined with the attitude of Democrats in the state legislature, the governor's statement increased the likelihood of a fight over the merits of withholding as against once-a-year tax payments by about a million wage and salary earners.

GOP Will Fight

Republicans who control the state senate have indicated they will fight such legislation and defeat it.

The governor today admitted that one of the objections of such a plan would be increased costs for employers. He also acknowledged that the "windfall" advantage of withholding—resulting from collection of taxes for two years during the same year—

Housing Bill Under Attack

Republicans Want To Put End to Tax Exemption for Bonds

Washington —(AP)—House Republicans kept up their attack on Democratic-backed housing legislation with a proposal today to repeal federal tax exemption for public housing bonds.

In the latest of series of GOP moves, Rep. Gordon L. McDonough (R-Calif.) announced he is introducing a bill he said would "close a glaring tax loophole" by subjecting interest on future issues of public housing bonds to income taxes.

His proposal was aimed indirectly at the administration-opposed public housing section of the $2,075,000,000 bill approved last Wednesday by the Democratic majority on the housing banking committee. McDonough is a member of the committee.

The house bill, denounced Friday as "extravagant and inflationary" by Housing Commissioner Norman P. Mason, rests with the house rules committee.

Rules committee Chairman Howard Smith (D-Va.) has indicated he is in no hurry to give it a hearing in spite of the "must" label put on it by Democratic leaders.

The Berlin issue came up at a house space committee meeting during a discussion of whether the United States might some day change its policy and become the first attacker.

Rep. James Fulton (R-Pa.) wanted to know whether in view of the tough-appearing Russian attitude on Berlin the United States is adequately protected in a firm position and "if not, should we mobilize in whole or in part."

McElroy said the matter had been under "specific consideration" by the joint chiefs of staff and the state department.

"We are prepared to meet various stages of the Berlin situation as it develops," he declared.

Rep. John W. McCormack (Mass.), the house Democratic leader, drew from McElroy the comment that "our policy is that we will not attack first."

8-Week-Old California Boy Still Missing With Abductor

Los Angeles —(AP)—Two southern California mothers had reason to cry today. The son of each was kidnapped.

Joyful tears are in order for Mrs. Wayne Murray, of Venice. Her boy, Wayne, Jr., 7, was rescued by officers from a former mental patient.

The second mother, Mrs. Ruth Flores, collapsed in a "hysterical condition" from anxiety and weariness. Her infant son, kidnapped early Saturday, is still missing.

Found in Hotel Room
Police in Bishop, Calif., acting on a tip from a Los Angeles bus ticket seller, found young Wayne Murray in a cheap hotel room with William Harris Elwell. The 28-year-old Elwell was sought by Venice police on a kidnapping charge.

Blond, crew-cut Wayne is being brought home this afternoon by Venice detectives, who drove more than 200 miles to pick up the boy and Elwell.

The youngster's mother had been under sedatives to relieve hysteria brought on since he was missed Saturday. She is expecting another child.

Meanwhile, hundreds of police and sheriff's officers pressed a search for the twin tot of widowed Mrs. Ruth Flores, 35, of Ontario.

The baby, Eric Leon Flores, eight weeks old, has been missing since early Saturday when he and Mrs. Flores' other five children were left with a baby-sitter known to Mrs. Flores only as Ann Williams.

Mrs. Flores was widowed last June when her husband was killed while welding in their yard. She said the short, stock woman came to her home, said she was a social worker, and offered to baby sit Saturday night while the widow went out with a friend.

On her return to the home Mrs. Flores found that the woman was missing — and so was the tot.

Support Kennedy Bill
On another subject Meany said the AFL-CIO supports the Kennedy Ervin labor control bill but will withdraw that support and actively fight the bill if labor-wanted clauses are dropped.

These clauses amend the Taft-Hartley act along lines long advocated by organized labor to permit strikers to vote in bargaining rights elections and to permit construction unions to negotiate pre-hire contracts.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) predicted the Kennedy Ervin bill will pass congress at this session. He said some businessmen are opposing it as they did a similar bill last year.

"Some employers and businessmen are not so much interested in breaking the power of crooks and hoodlums as they are in breaking the power of honest organized labor at the bargaining table," Kennedy said.

Meany said the National Association of Manufacturers is "not as willing to accept legislation to suppress racketeering and unethical practices by employers as the trade union movement is to drive out the betrayers of labor."

Sees Letdown In Enforcement

Meany Calls for Separate Inquiry by Congress Group

Washington —(AP)—CIO President George Meany today called for a congressional investigation of what he said is a breakdown in law enforcement on the federal and state level.

Meany, speaking to 3,500 delegates to the AFL-CIO Building and Construction Trades department fifth national legislative conference, said such hearings should be conducted by a committee other than the senate rackets committee.

The AFL-CIO chief said present rackets committee hearings on gangster links to the coin machine industry, for example, have nothing to do with labor union activities — yet the nature of the hearings, he said, leaves that inference.

"Is anyone so naive to believe that where an illegal slot machine is operating it is operating without the knowledge of some corrupt official?" Meany asked.

2 Boys Rescued From Cliff Near Vancouver

Trapped by Crumbling Rock for 6 Hours Before They Can be Removed

Vancouver, Wash. —(AP)—A pair of high school youths—scared, chilled, but uninjured—were hoisted last night from a precarious perch midway up a sheer, 325-foot cliff to safety.

The youths were trapped six hours by crumbling rock. The two began the climb apparently as a lark, and hoped to climb a ladder they thought had been built into the cliff as part of a dam construction project. There was no ladder.

They began their climb late on a warm afternoon, and were jacketless and wearing cotton shirts. After the sun went down, and as they clung to the cliff, the youths were chilled by icy winds that sprang up in the Lewis river canyon.

7 In Rescue Team

Seven men, from the Mountain Safety and Rescue Council of Oregon, came from Portland, Ore., some 50 miles southwest of the area, to rescue them.

Clark county sheriff's deputies identified the two as Charles Haas, 17, and Darrell Jones, 18, both of Vancouver.

When the boys were pulled up, the boys drank coffee, ate sandwiches, warmed themselves at a bonfire and drove home in their own car.

The boys said they started late in the afternoon to climb the cliff, man-made during the construction of Pacific Power and Light company's

Storm Kills Many On Persian Gulf

Bahrain —(AP)—A windstorm that howled across the baking Persian gulf Saturday night has left many dead and hundreds homeless. Estimates of the dead today ranged as high as 500.

The storm, of hurricane force, blew up without warning from the mainland of Saudi Arabia. Thick clouds of dust shrouded the gulf as havoc was wrought on both land and sea.

Many houses were smashed. Bahrain power lines were cut.

3 Men Rob Resort Safe

Police Say Value Of Loot May Run As High as $150,000

Clearwater, Fla. —(AP)—Three armed bandits overpowered a night watchman, broke into the safe of exclusive Safety Harbor Spa today and escaped with cash, jewelry and checks whose value police said may run as high as $150,000.

The men, wearing handkerchiefs for masks, drove up to the resort 15 miles north of Clearwater at 2:50 a.m. Twenty minutes later they vanished into the night.

Pierce Owens, the watchman, said the men, brandishing pistols, entered the building and slugged him when he attempted to resist.

Police Chief Claude Rigbsby of Safety Harbor quoted Owens as saying the bandits then handcuffed him and Mrs. Helen Rowe, taped their legs and placed tape gags on their mouths.

Rigbsby said the men "knocked the combination off the safe and then peeled off the door."

None of the 250 guests of the resort, whose rates for a single room at this time of year run $24 a day, knew the robbery had taken place until an hour or more later.

Shortly after the bandits left, Owens managed to get a knife from his pocket and cut the bindings on Mrs. Rowe's legs. She called police.

Black River Falls Flier Dies in Crash

Johaneck had rented the plane at a local airport.

Archbishop Given Triumphal Welcome

150,000 Cheering Greek Cypriots
Hear Makarios' Call for Peace
With Cyprus' Turkish Minority

Nicosia, Cyprus.—Archbishop Makarios got a triumphal welcome home from more than 150,000 Greek Cypriots yesterday after three years in exile. He called on him to cooperate with the island's Turkish minority in the days of freedom that lie ahead.

The political and spiritual leader of the Cypriot majority flew in from London, where British, Greek and Turkish officials worked out an agreement to give independence to the British colony.

In a 30-minute address from the porch of his residence, Makarios told his cheering, shouting followers: "We have triumphed. Today Cyprus is free. Let us celebrate, my brethren."

Supreme Duty
He urged Greek Cypriots to forget the political differences and bitterness which only last summer erupted into fighting between the Greek and Turkish communities.

"Let us not forget," he said, "that freedom is not just a privilege and right. It is also a heavy responsibility and supreme duty."

"Let us allow no passions or prejudices to intervene. Let us hold out an honest hand of friendship and cooperation to all."

"Especially let us cooperate wholeheartedly and sincerely with our friends the Turkish community. Only through harmony and cooperation with them will our strength be reinforced."

Turkish Cypriots and British troops remained discreetly away during the welcoming celebration.

Makarios paid high tribute to the Greek Cypriot underground organization EOKA, and the crowd's loudest roars came when he said:

"Our struggle for liberation is graced by the numberless heroes led by Gen. George Grivas, the legendary Dighenis, whose name is written on the most glorious pages of the history of Cyprus. To this great man and to the gallant fighters of EOKA we pay, at this solemn hour, our tribute of supreme gratitude and honor."

Grivas, a former Greek army officer, and other EOKA leaders have been offered safe conduct to Greece. They have not yet appeared openly but there was speculation they were in the crowd welcoming Makarios.

The welcome was far different from Makarios' secret departure aboard a British military plane March 9, 1956, when he was exiled in an effort to stifle the campaign for union with Greece. Now the 45-year-old Greek Orthodox prelate is considered certain to be elected the first president of the island republic.

Military Supply Convoy
Algiers.—Algerian nationalist rebels struck with increased strength over the weekend.

The French in turn claimed that 87 rebels were killed in operations.

Recommend Cutback in Federal Employment
Washington.—Reporting that the federal civilian payroll now runs more than a billion dollars a month, Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va) today recommended a cutback of 150,000 in the number of employees.

"It could be accomplished without impairment of a single essential function," Byrd said. He noted that such a cut would "be little more than 6 per cent."

Brotherhood of Press Proposed To Fight Reds

Goal Established At World Congress
Of Newspaper Folk

Columbia, Mo.—A brotherhood of the press was proposed today as a way for the free world to mount a crusade against communism.

That was the goal set for the world press congress by Charles Nutter, director of international house in New Orleans, chairman of the congress and a former Associated Press executive.

Speaking before newspaper men and women from all over the world — except the iron curtain countries — Nutter said:

"We have the means of reaching the minds of the neutrals in the world. We want peace, independence, harmony and progress within a brotherhood of man."

"Yet communism with all its faults, and despite its bloody, oppressive, destructive record of the past, is beating us. I think the reason is that communists have a plan and I do not believe we do."

Half a World
"This is being called a press congress of the world when actually it is a press congress of about half a world; the rest has already been lost. I believe that the press is strong and is competent and that it is time to use our strength and our cohesion in this great struggle of the truth against untruth, in this fight of civilization against jungle law, if you please."

Nutter said Russia already has declared war against the United States in the field of trade.

"I am sure," he said, "that this economic warfare and penetration, this battle for men's minds not so much in our own country as in the underdeveloped areas of the world, is vastly more dangerous than a shooting war and could obtain objectives which a hot war could not."

Picking National Flower Proves a Thorny Situation

Washington.—"In this hallowed chamber, we are approaching a somewhat weedy situation," Sen. Gordon Allott (R-Colo) recently announced in the senate.

Various proposals for designation of our national flower are springing forth like shoots after a wet spring.

"They threaten to overrun other, even more vital issues," Allott suggested what he called a great compromise: The Carnation as national flower.

The compromise didn't work. Sen. Kenneth Keating (R-NY) immediately suggested the rose. Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) then suggested the corn tassel. Sen. Thurston B. Morton (R-KY) suggested grass.

Lyndon Johnson Seems Certain to Influence Choice of '60 Nominee

Texas Senator May Himself be the Democratic Party Standard Bearer

Washington.—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas appears to be emerging as one of those most likely to influence the choice of the 1960 Democratic presidential nominee—if he isn't himself the standard-bearer.

Democrats who rallied at a $100-a-plate victory dinner during the weekend heard a great deal of praise for the skill of Johnson, the senate Democratic leader.

The dinner drew 2,479 of the party faithful and raised about $185,000. Johnson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Texas) delivered the principal addresses, and numerous other Democrats spoke.

Festive Scenes
Behind the festive scenes there was a measure of agreement among party strategists that Johnson and his supporters may come close to having the deciding voice in the selection of the party's presidential nominee at the July, 1960, convention in Los Angeles.

Johnson keeps telling all callers that he isn't running, that Texas doesn't want a presidential candidate and that the country doesn't want a president from Texas.

Johnson obviously was further impressed with the never-ending burdens of the presidency in a discussion of these with President Eisenhower on a recent flight to Texas.

Substantial Bloc
Nevertheless, as Texas' favorite son, Johnson is expected to go into the 1960 convention with a substantial bloc of delegates, mostly from southern states. He will have wide secondary support from all sections of the country and an acquaintance with individual Democratic leaders not equaled by any of the more active presidential aspirants.

This strength could be decisive in swinging support to whichever aspirant he decides to back.

Seek Cause of Ship Collision

U. S. Luxury Liner,
Norwegian Tanker
Crash Near Harbor

New York.—Coast guard investigators today were trying to find the cause of a collision between the American Export luxury liner Constitution and the Norwegian oil tanker Jalanta.

The bow of the tanker was sheared off, and swung back and forth like a hinge for half an hour after the crash. The 100-foot bow section finally broke free, but remained afloat.

The liner received a gash in her bow about 8 feet above the water line, 40 feet long and 15 feet wide. Both ships made port without help.

The ships collided yesterday outside New York harbor. There were no injuries.

The accident occurred in a dense fog, shortly before 11 a.m., at a crossing of the sea lanes five miles southeast of Ambrose light.

Both Have Radar
Each ship had just completed an overhaul. The tanker, which carried no cargo, had a crew of 42. The 30,000-ton liner carried a crew of 112 and 20 technicians. Two officials, a vice president of the ship line and a vice president of the repair yard, were accompanied by their wives.

The gross tonnage of the tanker is less than half that of the liner — 12,228 gross tons, which makes the tanker about medium size. Both ships are closer in length, about 570 feet for the tanker and 683 for the liner. Both carry radar.

The Constitution was built in Quincy, Mass., in 1951 at a cost of $25 million. She was returning from a multi-million-dollar conversion job, two months of work that re-shaped her forward superstructure and added more state-rooms. The work was done at Newport News, Va.

American Export Lines said the crash will not delay the ship's return to the Mediter-

Anti-British Activity Blunted in Nyasaland

Troops Break Up Meetings but Spirit Of Rebellious Africans Is Unchanged

Blantyre, Nyasaland.—Troops rushed into Nyasaland from Southern Rhodesia appear to have blunted the African national congress' campaign against the British rulers of the central African federation.

Police broke up congress meetings in outlying Mzuzu and Fort Manning Saturday, arrested a total of 13 Africans but otherwise the weekend was peaceful.

Move Into Town
White families living in isolated areas began moving into town. Special security measures remained in force, with squads of riot police patrolling Blantyre and keeping a close watch on the city's clock tower, a favorite gathering place for African agitators.

While the rebellious spirit may have been dampened, there was no disposition in Blantyre to minimize the ominous potentialities of the situation. Dr. Hastings Banda, president of the African national congress, has not retracted an inch from his demand that Nyasaland must become an independent state outside the federation.

In Salisbury, capital of Southern Rhodesia and the federation, where a state of emergency was proclaimed three days ago, 400 congress leaders have been arrested and an even more serious view is taken of the situation.

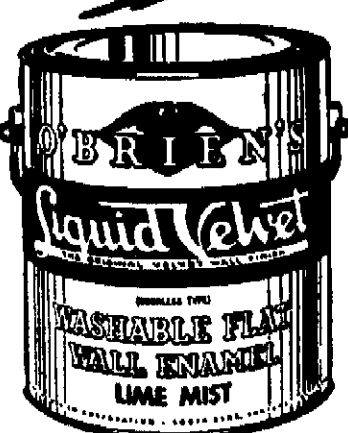

Similar Measures
The drastic action in Southern Rhodesia obviously was taken with the expectation that Sir Robert Armitage, governor of Nyasaland, would follow through with similar measures for his territory.

Sir Robert, however, has made no move to declare a state of emergency or arrest congress leaders.

Sir Robert was governor of Cyprus in 1955 when the EOKA campaign started there. He has been criticized sharply by papers in Southern Rhodesia for not taking more drastic action in Nyasaland. But he also is under pressure from African leaders to get Rhodesian troops out of Nyasaland.

Playwright Anderson Saw Theater as Great Life Force

Stamford, Conn.—Playwright Maxwell Anderson saw the theater as a great force spreading light into the dark corners of human experience.

He took to writing plays late in life and then plunged into it as, in his own words, a "religious experience." He worked at it meticulously until a few days before he died.

Only a stroke was able to stop the constant flow from his pen. He was 70 when he died in Stamford hospital Saturday.

Interested in Life
Anderson the man was interested in all the vital aspects of life. His eyes caught everything happening around him. His plays were a testimony to his breadth of knowledge.

Anderson, the newspaperman-playwright, spotlighted congressional log rolling in "Both Your Houses," which won him the Pulitzer prize in 1933.

Anderson the poet-playwright wrote 11 successful plays in verse.

Anderson the realist-playwright wrote the play, "What Price Glory?" to show war as something beyond a setting for heroic deeds. Its co-author was Laurence Stallings in 1924.

Anderson the social-conscious playwright wrote "Winterset" — "a serious indictment of the hysterical justice meted out in the Sacco-Vanzetti trial," he called it recently.

Anderson the romantic-playwright wrote the tender lyrics to the still popular "September Song"—written 20 years ago for "Knickerbocker Holiday."

Bob Hope to Consult Eye Specialist

Hollywood.—"From now on," says Bob Hope, "I'm doing whatever the doctor tells me."

I've got too many places to see."

Eye trouble threatens to come between Hope and the places he wants to see. He will fly to New York by jet liner today to see a Columbia university specialist about the ailment.

The comedian suffered a blood clot in his left eye during a Christmas holiday trip to Europe to entertain U.S. servicemen. He says vision in the eye is now going fuzzy.

May Lose Vision
Hope said physicians have told his wife he may lose full vision in the eye unless he gets help from specialists.

In New York Hope will see Dr. Algernon Reese, an internationally known specialist on the ailment. He may also visit a Boston eye clinic.

After Hope's return from Europe doctors said he had apparently ruptured a blood vessel in the eye. He was ordered to take it easy, but he continued working.

Dizzy Spell
Saturday night he taped a sketch for a television show, and, he said, "I got a little careless. I jumped around too much in rehearsals. When it came time to go on, I got dizzy and lost my balance."

"I just made it through the sketch — working foot by foot — but it scared me."

Wind Will Play Big Part in Tower Move

$400,000 Project by Channel 11 Assures 'Rabbit Ears' Picture

BY JINGO

Wind will play a big part in whether WMBV-TV gets its new tower in operation by July 1. "When they're up there 1,000 feet above the ground," explained Joseph D. Mackin, the station's general manager, "those steel workers don't like to look into any kind of wind — and you can't blame them."

The announcement of the tower move to some 10 airline miles northwest of Green Bay Mackin hopes will end the avalanche of mail inquiries he says the station has received from the Fox Cities area.

Mackin estimates the 1,050-foot tower will cost $400,000 to build. The new 316,000 watts of sending power compares with 100,000 watts each for WBAY-TV and WFRV-TV, he says.

It all means, Mackin explains, that most Fox Cities area viewers should be able to get Channel 11 programs with "rabbit ears."

The station is undecided about whether it will expand its Green Bay studios and will maintain its present Green Bay and Marinette facilities for now, Mackin reports.

"I'd like to take issue with you on your prognostication that Arthur Godfrey will 'fold,'" writes an Appleton reader.

'Rio Bravo' to Test Movie Success Of Horse Operas

Hollywood — Can "Rio Bravo" break the jinx against western pictures? Showmen figure if it can't, no movie can.

These wise heads argue that no western since "Gunfight at OK Corral" has been a success at the box office. The reason would appear obvious: The glut of cowpokes and gunslungers on TV. Why go to a theater for the wide open spaces when you can get all you want on the home screen?

The cast of "Rio Bravo" seems to be the best success insurance in recent memory. The picture has Ricky Nelson for teenagers, Dean Martin for the young sophisticates, John Wayne for the mature audience, Walter Brennan for the oldsters and the subtleties of TV's "The Real McCoys." Plus two other hot TV stars, Ward Bond of "Wagon Train" and John Russell of "The Lawman."

If it doesn't rate box office bravos, the horse opera will suffer an eclipse on the big screen.

Honolulu Could be World's Largest City

Honolulu — Honolulu could claim to be the biggest city in the world—with city limits more than 1,000 miles from downtown.

The official city boundary covers an expanse of 540,000 square miles, most of which is Pacific ocean.

Technically, the boundary extends to Midway island, 1,149 miles to the west, and to Palmyra island, 990 miles southwest.

Teenagers Dig Jive Talk Lad

Edward Byrnes of '77 Sunset Strip' Normal Young Man

Hollywood — "The chick in skins took the long and airy and got buzzed by Gerns-ville."

Translation: "The girl in a fur coat went on an airplane ride and caught a cold."

This is a rough example of a new kind of talk that is buzzing the teenage set. Some parents aren't immune to it, either. Much of it stems from a lad who calls himself Edd Byrnes. He's the guy who plays Kookie on ABC's Friday night exercise in criminalities, "77 Sunset Strip."

Edd was a New York actor who had been doing bits at Warner brothers. He was cast as a killer in the first "77er," made such a hit that he reformed and became a steady character in the series. And do the teenagers dig him! His fan mail on the lot ranks with James Garner, right there on top.

Jivey Dialog Besides being a handsome, wholesome 25-year-old, Edd's appeal stems from his jivey dialog, strictly from Hep-ville. It dates back to swing talk of the '30s with some modern touches thrown in.

The adjective "Kookie" is the most noted of this new lingo; I find it used almost universally by show folk today. Possibly stemming from cuckoo, it describes something wild, weird and/or wonderful. Synonyms: way out, cool.

Among Edd's etymology. Don't blow your jets—don't get angry.

Antsville—a place full of people.

A Washington—dollar bill. Pile up the Z's—sleep. You're getting the beat—you're beginning to understand.

Just about the only sorrow of Edd's newfound fame is that people now expect him to talk like a Kook in real life. He's not from Squaresville, but he isn't Kookie, either. He leads a normal bachelor life in a home just above, oddly enough, the Sunset Strip.

The series has kept him working almost constantly, but he doesn't mind that, either. "I had a tough time trying to get a break in the acting business; I don't mind the work now," he said.

He's so busy that he doesn't have time to join the mushroom people who pack into the Sunset Strip coffee houses. And he wouldn't if he could. "All those Kooks do is sit around and stare at each other," he said. (Mushroom people come out at night to get their kicks.)

Claims Would-be Doctors Going Into More Lucrative Fields

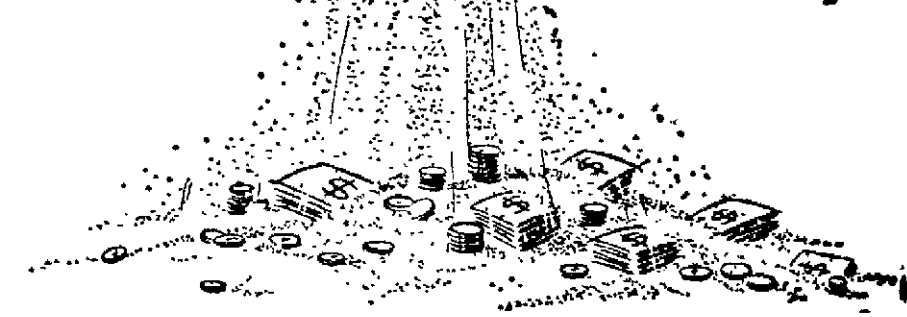

Chicago — Tomorrow's doctors are finding other careers.

Dr. John A. D. Cooper, assistant dean of the Northwestern University medical school, says the ability of other professions to offer greater inducements for fellowships and research assistant-ships is one of the reasons for the loss. "Medicine," he said, "has no equivalent source of subsidy for its students."

Dr. Cooper urges that steps be taken to shorten the medical program and grant higher professional and economic status to the physician in specialty training.

Television Needs New Faces, Says Singing Emcee

New York—(AP)—"Television is badly in need of fresh faces," said Merv Griffin. "But everybody's afraid to gamble on new talent." Griffin, singing emcee of the ABC-TV network variety show, "Play Your Hunch," feels the industry needs to develop a system by which it can uncover and help mature outstanding young entertainers.

"There is no sure way today for promising performers to be discovered," he remarked. "It's harder than ever for great instrumentalists, for example, to get started. There must be some Artie Shaws and Benny Goodmans of tomorrow around, but they're unrecognized."

"The colleges in particular are being overlooked. They produce concert artists, but why don't they turn out more entertainers in the field of popular music?"

Actress Audrey Hepburn walks with husband Mel Ferrer from the front door of their home in Beverly Hills, Calif. This was the first time since she received a back injury Jan. 28 when thrown from a horse during the filming of a movie on location near Durango, Mexico.

Jane Wyman Back in Films

'Holiday for Lovers' New Movie After 4 Year's Absence

BY BOB THOMAS
Hollywood—(AP)—Looking as pert and pretty as the day she left, the Oscar winner Jane Wyman ("Johnny Belinda, 1948) is back on the movie sets. She's making "Holiday for Lovers" with Clifton Webb.

Only those rare souls without TV sets would ask where she has been. She has been making films for the home screen, of course. She did three years of it, then took another year to recover.

"I never did get ahead," she sighed as she recalled her hectic TV days. "The deal was set while I was still making 'Miracle in the Rain' at Warners, my last movie."

TV Life Busy
"When the show ('The Jane Wyman Show') went on the air, I was already two weeks behind schedule. For the first year, I was always racing a deadline with never a chance to catch my breath. It was a scramble for three years."

She finished her last season early in 1958. The show was dropped because of anemic ratings.

Jane was just as happy to get off the treadmill. For the first time in her busy life, she took a breather.

She became so enamored with the leisurely life that she closed up her Hollywood home and moved to Lido Isle, 80 miles south in beautiful Newport harbor.

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of March 7, 1880.

Notwithstanding the great snowstorm Saturday night, a meeting was held at Bertschy Hall to devise means of helping the starving people of Ireland.

The Temple of Honor band discoursed some of its best pieces while the people were assembling, they having tendered their services gratis.

Acting Mayor Humphrey Pierce called the meeting to order and Sam Ryan was chosen secretary.

A committee consisting of Father Tanguay, James Lennon, P. Morrissey, J. E. Harriman and Ryan was appointed to devise means of attaining the object in view. It was voted that Judge Harriman be appointed treasurer of the Irish Relief Fund of Outagamie County and all the people of the county be invited to contribute thereto.

Solicitors were named for each ward with the request they raise all the funds they can in their own localities and report same at a public meeting in Appleton on Wednesday, March 17.

Grover E. Falck, Seymour, was appointed postmaster at Seymour by President Roosevelt and the appointment was sent to the senate for confirmation.

Supv. James Farrell, who lived in the town of Kaukauna, thought his cattle had learned to dance one day last week. The supervisor noticed that his dairy cows, as well as the horses, were prancing about as if they were dancing to music. He could not figure it out until he noticed a wisp of smoke rising from the corner of the barn. Investigating, he found a short circuit in the electric wiring had charged the entire building and the animals were receiving mild electric shocks.

The Appleton public relations club of the Chicago and North Western Railroad was to meet at the C.&N.W. freight station. William Basing, local chairman of the club, was to preside and suggestions for improving relations between the road and its customers were to be discussed.

Frank Werner was elected president of the East Central Wisconsin Past Commanders association at the annual meeting at the Neenah Masonic temple. The association was composed of past Knights Templar. Harry H. Damm was elected secretary-treasurer.

James Younger, Appleton, became an active member of Tau Kappa Epsilon social fraternity at Beloit college. Mr. Younger was a freshman at the school and was majoring in geology. William Leonard, Appleton, also was initiated into the fraternity.

The Neenah High school debate squad returned from Madison with fourth place in the state tournament. Miss Helen Hughes, faculty coach, announced.

Arthur Meyer, Neenah, speared his second sturgeon of the season. The fish weighed 70 pounds, bettering his first catch. The sturgeon was the fifth taken out of the Meyer shanty, a fine record in that rather poor sturgeon spearing season.

necessity, strict necessity, that is involved in the Nelson fiscal expedients.

There is admitted merit in the idea of a more leisurely and thorough review of the state expenditure program, during a legislative recess. But that is not the most exigent part of this development. What is really involved is the additional time provided for the new administration to devise expedients for meeting the state's difficult financial dilemma—how to provide evidently compulsory enlargement of spending without giving mortal offense to the general taxpayer.

The outcome will be a great deal more interesting than the preliminary jousting of today.

Democrats convene in Washington. Theme: The party will have fewer problems if it can only put one of them in the White House.

Ike names the wife of publisher Henry Luce ambassador to Brazil. And if that doesn't put Ike on the cover of Time, nothing will.

Democrats push a mammoth housing program. Idea: Get everybody under cover to escape flying debris when the roof falls in on the treasury.

Winter

The winter winds sob in the pines
They race through the darkened day
Swiftly they drive the drifting snow
Their fangs are ready to slay

Bluebells sleep in the silent hills
Cold hands are etching a scroll
The trees stand bare by the roadside
Winter is taking its toll

Heralds of the night are marching
They tramp through the fading day
Like whelps of the border wasteland
They come to harry their prey

The air is filled with stinging frost
As sharp as a hunter's knife
Darkness presses down on the land
Cruel fingers clutch at life

Long flung rays of the morning sun
Rush in where the shadows play
Golden light flows over the fields
For now it's another day

The voice of a singing anvil
Comes drifting over the hill
It seems to say that spring is near
Music that brings an added thrill

Brave little shoots of tender green
Peep up through the melting snow
The wind sings strangely in the trees
On the ridge where hawthorns grow

Soon the teal will be heading north
High above the swaying larch
The new spring gleams across the miles
Nothing stays its onward march

City Park Serves Great Need;
Why Ruin It With New School

Editor, Post-Crescent:

We, the undersigned, are mothers of young children who live within a 1-block distance of City park.

Recent surveys show population in this area to be increasing, rather than decreasing; significantly, that increase is in the younger age-group: our children. We are all 1-car families. Sometimes our car is gone all day every day; sometimes father walks to work. In many cases, even then, the car is in the garage 90 per cent of the time. Most of us do not spend our time taking the children elsewhere by car.

Park board policy has been, we are happy to note, that Appleton needs more park space rather than less. We would rather see Edison school children walk two blocks to play in City park (as do St. Paul children, on occasion) than to make of the park a school ground.

And, as more children are crowded into an urban area with ever increasing traffic loads, we are happy to have a large space for baseball games, football games, running games, tennis, etc., with smaller chance of the game spilling over into the streets. Therefore, should the park be taken for school purposes, we would feel an equivalent portion of land should be obtained within the area to replace it! (Of course this suggestion is not a serious one, as the present park with its trees, shrubbery, walks and turf could be duplicated even if buildings were torn down to provide an equal area.)

Use of the park has been somewhat restricted in the past, it is true. There was the boy with the open knife who threatened the children who were using playground equipment he wanted. There are the bigger children in groups who take over the play of smaller ones. And occasionally there are adults who frequent the park and approach children, not with the best of intentions. We have in the past warned our children, sometimes kept them at home unless we had the time to check on them at frequent intervals. Perhaps we should have carried out an idea we had, of organizing to provide supervision, in case of trouble, during the early afternoons. At other times there are usually mothers with tiny children using the park and providing a deterrent to such activities. (This paragraph is in no way intended to be critical of the Appleton police force which has often provided help in these cases. But a complaint must first be made to the police, and most mothers do not want their children jeopardized even to that possible extent.)

The park does provide a lovely, restful, spirit-restoring view. It also provides a nearly unrestricted view. Therein lies safety for children. Has the civic minded citizen spent a full day in the park — (a warm day in summer?) Or is he a resident of some other ward? Does he see the numbers of small family picnics there at meal-times (we believe, often people who have come to this park by car in preference to one of the larger parks. River banks, for instance, provide more relaxation for children than for parents), the ball games, the tiny children with mothers or young baby-sitters, the kindergarteners "exploring" on the farther side from their homes, the older people who just sit and read or chat for a while?

We should like to hear from parents living a little farther away than we do, since we do not feel that

City park is a "private park" at all, from what we observe from our particular vantage points. Many of the community activities mentioned by Civic Minded are virtually non extant today, such as oratory and outdoor political rallies. The pump and well still serve the anti-fluoridationists and others. That City park is no longer a "focal point" serves merely to indicate that the community has grown, that there are now many such "focal points," not that this or any other one has outlived its usefulness, and it would truly be an inequity for the remainder of the city's population if one small park did serve for all the activities Civic Minded seems to feel are necessary to prove its usefulness.

We are sure that the Second ward pays its share of the city's property taxes! Since it is the older part of town it contains many corner lots which were halved to accommodate a house on each of the two frontages; many with narrow frontage; neither of which comply with present building requirements. Therefore, free space for children's activities is here at a minimum. Surely if any area needs a neighborhood park, even if it is no more than that, it is this one! Surely the proposed reduction of the tax rolls is not going to keep this area from paying its proportion! We hope Civic Minded will balance human values against hard dollars and reconsider his proposal. Modern U. S. culture has heavily weighted the scales in favor of the dollar, which seems a shame with the numerical increase in humans we are currently experiencing!

We feel the proposal is in reality against the civic good, and that a new Edison building, which we favor, was justified then because when the Democrats had the majority in congress there also was a Democratic president in the White House. Thus the majority leader was responsible to the president who had been elected by all of the people whereas in the present instance Sen. Johnson as majority leader is responsible to no one except the voters of the state of Texas.

All of this is true but the point which Sen. Proxmire omits is that he sat silently in the Democratic caucus and thus was one of the 63 Democratic senators who handed this authority over to Johnson by unanimous vote. Even now when he is reviving the issue a month later, few of the Democratic senators have indicated great unhappiness with things as they are.

The fact is of course that Sen. Johnson has tremendous power. He is commonly mentioned as the most powerful man in the nation next to the president of the United States. We doubt if there is anyone who cares to challenge such a statement.

Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore.) told Sen. Proxmire that while he agreed with much Sen. Proxmire had to say on the subject he thought it rather strange that the senator had changed his tune so suddenly. He pointed out that before Proxmire's 1958 reelection the Wisconsin senator had "lavished praise" upon Johnson and had "glowingly lauded" him in statements from the senate floor. Neuberger said he had given up his prior right to an assignment on the agricultural committee partly because Johnson had told him that Proxmire thought such an assignment would "assure" Proxmire's reelection. His suggestion was that Proxmire had gone along with Sen. Johnson in his wielding of full control over the senate so long as it was in Proxmire's interest to do so.

In the senator's original statement on this matter he complained that Sen. Johnson had not given him a place on the finance committee which he had desired. It is not clear whether he launched this attack in protest over failure to get on this committee or whether he had some other motive. We have a notion he is very much interested in disassociating himself from the Texas senator and from the Texas senator's views on civil rights, on the regulation of the gas industry and from his tax policy with respect to the petroleum industry.

Whatever his motive he is certain to accomplish two things — he will be back in the good graces of the Wisconsin Democrats and he will have his name in the headlines and that seems to be very important to his existence.

Relatives on Congressional Payrolls

At least 10 of the 82 persons who entered congress last month put relatives on their office staffs. The new employees include six wives, one daughter, one son, one mother and one sister. The salaries paid to these ten relatives range from $4,047 to $13,345 annually.

In mentioning these statistics a news article pointed out there is nothing illegal about the hiring of a relative by congressmen. In support of this fact it was noted that former President Truman had his wife working for him when he was a senator. There have been many other husband and wife teams in congress and very often the wife of a congressman is better able to earn the salary allowed than anyone else he might hire. Congressmen now are paid $22,500 per year in salary and in addition have allowances for expenses. They are allowed about $37,000 a year to pay for office help. But no one employee can be paid more than $13,345 per year. This salary allowance always has been a temptation to some members of congress. Those who run a busy office can use every dollar allowed them but some loafers who go there principally to draw their salaries and who engage in a minimum of activities often find it a temptation to have this money paid in salaries to minor clerks or to acquaintances who are willing to accept the checks and turn back all or a part to the congressmen. Several congressmen in recent years have gone to jail for this kickback practice and that is why there always is considerable interest in knowing where the congressman's allowance money goes.

Congressmen who have their wives employed in their offices as do Congressmen O'Konski and Withrow of Wisconsin may be acting in the best interests of the public by so doing although there may be some people who feel that Mrs. O'Konski could scarcely earn $10,650, or Mrs. Withrow $8,192 as an assistant in any other office.

On the other hand, there are cases which certainly will excite comment if not suspicion. Rep. Steven V. Carter of Leon, Iowa, is reported to have placed his 19-year-old son on his payroll at $11,873 a year. The son graduated from high school only last year and now is attending college a half day while acting as top assistant to his father. This new position for young Carter caused considerable comment in his home town among the boys who recently attended high school with him for, as it was pointed out, young farm lads in that area earn about 60 cents an hour and veteran college professors get from $6,000 to $10,000 a year.

Most of the people in Leon think the Carters made a mistake but a considerable number say the arrangement is all right "if the boy can do the work." The fact that the congressman recently recovered from cancer, and now has reduced his son's pay by half, may swing public sentiment in his favor. But that is a circumstance that can scarcely be relied upon by other congressmen who may be tempted.

Most people will be fair to their congressmen. They do not begrudge them their salaries and they are willing to have them supplied with all the help they need. However, we have the notion that most people in Leon, Ia., and elsewhere, will feel that a part time worker who also is a freshman in college is overpaid at $11,873 per year and perhaps even at half of that.

Real Practice

Enid, Okla. — Capt. Tom Davis and Howard Everhart spent the afternoon simulating forced landings in their air force plane. Shortly before they had planned to land, the T28 trainer developed engine trouble and they landed in a wheat field. Neither was hurt in what officials said was a perfect emergency landing.

Senators Will Have to Reckon With Governors

From the St. Paul Pioneer-Press

Democratic senators who have an eye on their party's presidential nomination are going to run into a lot of trouble from Democratic governors with the same idea.

A governor traditionally is in a good position to control his state's convention delegation, and many of the states with the biggest blocs of votes have powerful chief executives who'll sew them up way in advance. This will all but rule out the kind of primary battles the Democrats waged in '32 and '36.

Gov. Pat Brown of California already has indicated he means to get a lock on his state's Democratic delegation. Among others with the same intention are Bob Meyner of New Jersey, Soapy Williams of Michigan, Abe Ribicoff of Connecticut and Dave Lawrence of Pennsylvania.

Thus it won't do much good for the Kennedys, Humphreys, Symingtons et al to plan any primary election campaign activity on the '52 and '56 scale of Sen. Estes Kefauver. There won't be enough primary votes up for grabs to make it worthwhile. Instead the ambitious senators will try to win friends and second-place votes in the favorite-son states.

Wide Range of Opinion Heard About Berlin

Congress Ideas Range Upward to Mobilization Plan

Washington — (U) — Congress members spent a busy weekend giving opinions on the Berlin situation. The individual suggestion ranged from advice to take it easy on the diplomatic quarter-backing to a call for mobilization of additional troops.

Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.), chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, cautioned his colleagues against forcing President Eisenhower into a negotiating straightjacket.

Fulbright's reminder that the president has the basic responsibility for foreign policy was similar to that sounded earlier by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.), senate Republican leader.

Conflicting Advice — Fulbright said no football team can expect to win a game with every man his own quarterback. Uncoordinated and perhaps conflicting advice would cause nothing but trouble, Fulbright said.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, the senate majority leader, said the nation would stand united behind the president in the Berlin crisis. The world expects to hear "something more than partisan pride" from Washington, he told a weekend meeting of Democrats.

"There is one enduring reality," Johnson said. "Where freedom is the issue, the people of the United States speak with one heart, one mind and one voice. We have no deals to make. Freedom is not up for bargaining."

Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) called for mobilization of four or five army and national guard divisions. He said such a move would be "a diplomatic signal to the Soviet Union that we mean business."

Jackson said he believes there has been too much talk and not enough quiet military buildup as the May 27 deadline approaches on which the Russians have said they intend to turn over their Berlin occupation duties to their East Germany satellite government.

termination to apply "all appropriate means" for maintaining occupation rights.

Threat of War — In today's note, the summary said:

"The Soviet government recalls that the sides which are being threatened with the application of 'all means' have at their disposal everything necessary to defend themselves in a worthy manner and rebuff any aggression."

"If behind the threats heard in the west the desire to resort to weapons is really concealed, then anyone who ventures to do so must assume a heavy responsibility toward mankind for launching a new world war."

The Soviet note was handed this morning to the ambassadors of the United States, Britain, France and West Germany an hour after Macmillan returned from Leningrad.

Macmillan Sees Khrushchev — The British prime minister conferred with his aides, then went to the Kremlin for the meeting with Khrushchev. A British spokesman described the meeting as "a general session of substance."

He said Macmillan was shown a draft of the note yesterday as a courtesy.

The Soviet note replied to a western proposal for a foreign ministers' conference on Germany.

A joint communique on the British-Soviet talks will be issued tomorrow. The British have already submitted a draft communique that will be taken up by Soviet and British officials tonight.

The conference between Macmillan and Khrushchev lasted for an hour and 50 minutes. Macmillan went directly from the Kremlin to the British embassy for additional consultations with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and others on the prime minister's staff.

Air Force Says Rocket May be Put in Orbit

ceived for a 9-minute period after liftoff supports the accuracy of preliminary information about launch trajectory and orbit injection. Tracking stations have since picked up random signals on the frequency of the Discoverer's radio beacon, which approximates the predicted position of the satellite."

All this, the air force said, tends "to confirm that an orbit has been attained."

"Attempts to track the satellite are continuing," the announcement said. "Additional contacts should assist in defining the precise orbit."

Of the random signals received so far, authorities said, the most reliable were picked up by tracking stations at Edwards Air Force base, Calif., Anette, Alaska, and Vandenberg.

Frequency Kept Secret

The air force said the information at hand suggests Discoverer may be circling the earth about once every 96 minutes. It said the preliminary data indicate the rocket is about 146 miles from the earth at the point of its closest approach and 558 miles away at the farthest point in its flight.

The frequency at which Discoverer's radio was supposed to broadcast has been kept secret. This prompted criticism from some scientists, who say that withholding such information may have prevented trackers from locating the rocket.

Dr. J. Allen Hynek, associate director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory at Cambridge, Mass., said:

"Secrecy is fine but should not be extended so far as not to have tracking agencies notified in advance."

The observatory has been the hub for optical tracking of some previous satellites. Discoverer I contained only 40 pounds of instruments. Rear Adm. John E. Clark, deputy director of ARPA, said this test was solely one of the vehicle itself and did not involve any other experiments.

Discoverer's payload was housed in a Bell hustler rocket 19 feet long and 5 feet thick. The first stage — the one that kicked the thing off the ground — was a Thor intermediate range ballistic missile. The entire assembly was 78.2 feet long and weighed more than 100,000 pounds.

Actor Famed In Valet Roles Dies at 71

Hollywood — (U) — Eric Blore, 71, the "gentleman's gentleman" in two decades of Hollywood films, died Sunday night of a heart attack.

Blore's career on the stage and in films spanned a half a century. He appeared on the stage in London, where he was born, and in New York before coming to Hollywood in 1934.

He was soon type-cast as the portly butler, the part he played in most of his films. Many of his roles were in Fred Astaire movies.

Blore also wrote several stage plays.

He retired after suffering a stroke in 1956. He became ill recently and was moved from his Hollywood home to the Motion Picture Country hospital, where death came.

He leaves his widow, Clara, a son, Eric, Jr., one grandchild, and a sister, Gladys Hedley, Surrey, England.

Nuns Attend 'The Cradle Song'

"The Cradle Song," by Gregorio Martinez Sierra, the most popular Spanish dramatist in America, is the choice for the mid-winter production of the Lawrence college theater. A group of 90 nuns were entertained Saturday at a private production. The play opens to the public at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday in the Terrace room of the Lawrence Memorial union. The play is set in a Dominican convent and most of the characters are nuns. From left, in above photo, are Ann Stevenson, Elm Grove, Ill.; Janet Davenport, Arlington Heights, Ill.; Susan Lewis, Wheaton, Ill.; Cornelia Dohr, 1309 Alicia Drive; Kathleen Karst, Wauwatosa; Betty McNeil, Wheaton, Ill., seated; Judy Speer, Park Ridge, Ill., and Joan Lubitz, Brookfield, Ill.

A Group of 90 Nuns attended a private showing of "The Cradle Song" Saturday afternoon at Lawrence college. They were entertained at a coffee hour after the performance and had the opportunity to meet members of the cast. Left to right are Janet Davenport, who portrayed Sister Joanna of the Cross; Cornelia Dohr, the Mother Prioress; Sister M. Firma, a teacher at St. Joseph Catholic school, and Sister M. Claire, principal of St. Joseph Catholic school.

Romantic Interest in "The Cradle Song" is provided by Bonnie Brown, center, Best Bend, and Richard Devine, right, Geneva, Ill., shown with Daril Riley, 1136 W. Oklahoma street. Ted Cloak is directing the production and Joseph Hopfensperger is in charge of technical aspects of the play.

Rev. S. A. Borusky, Guest at St. Therese Girl Scout Program

Brownies and Intermediate Girl Scout troops of St. Therese Catholic school held their annual family communion and breakfast program Sunday. The Rev. S. A. Borusky, Green Bay, diocesan scout chaplain, who celebrated the mass and gave the sermon, was guest speaker at the breakfast. The welcome and introduction of guests was given by Mrs. Anthony Daleiden, troop organizer at St. Therese. She introduced Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Jack, east neighborhood chairman; Mrs. S. A. Owens, Appleton district chairman; Miss Esther Pickles, executive director; Miss Patricia Bodette, district director of Fox River Area Girl Scout council; Mrs. James De Young, organizer at St. Joseph school; Mrs. James Long, organizer at Sacred Heart school; Mrs. Norbert Derringer, organizer at St. Mary school; the Rev. Foster Bonpreise, OFM, Cap., Girl Scout chaplain at St. Joseph school; the Rev. Edward Wagner, pastor of St. Therese, and the Rev. Florian Milbauer, scout chaplain at St. Therese. Lloyd Berken was toastmaster for entertainment held after the breakfast. The eighth grade Troop 140 gave the flag ceremony. Miss Dorothy Umuth is leader. Brownie Troops 214, 294, 296 and 310 of the third grade sang as a chorus a welcome to the mothers. Leaders of these troops are the Mmes. Milan Stushek, Kenneth Romanesko, Joseph Pukac, Jerome Stadler, William Bedat, John Burke, Jolite, Richard Plante, William Playman and Arthur Hofkins. The fourth grade Brownie choruses of Troops 259, 267 and 273 sang a salute to the fathers. Leaders are the Mmes. Robert Wiegand, Douglas Dempsey, John Stoffel, Carl Erickson, Robert Yuma, Charles Flanagan and Jack Joosten. Mrs. John Le Fevre directed the singing and Mrs. Lloyd Berken was the accompanist. The three sixth grade troops took part in the program. Troop 154 with Mrs. Berken, Mrs. Harold Calmes and Mrs. John Kurth as leaders, presented a skit "I've Got A Secret."

In Good Taste Guest at Races Pays Own Bets

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: When a young man invites a woman friend to go to the races with him and she wants to bet on some of the races, is he supposed to buy the tickets for her, or does she buy her own? I think he should pay for her since she is his guest. I have been told, however, that I am wrong about this and that it would be very improper for her to allow him to do this. I would very much like to have your opinion on the matter.

Answer: He pays her admission to the racetrack but it would be most improper to allow him to pay for her bets. If she gives him the money she would like to bet, she may ask him to buy her tickets for her.

Choosing Best Man

Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married shortly and my fiancé has asked a good friend of his to be best man. His mother is quite perturbed over this and thinks that he should have asked one of his brothers to fill this position. She feels that he is putting a stranger before his brothers and that people will say he thinks more of his friend than he does of his own brothers. Is it necessary that the bridegroom always ask a brother to be best man?

Answer: A bridegroom does usually choose a brother for his best man, but it is not necessary especially if there is a great deal of difference in their ages.

Couple Says Vows in Lutheran Service

Miss Wanda Jean Kruckeberg became the bride of Merle William Jacobson at 6 p.m. Saturday at St. Matthew Lutheran church. The Rev. Sylvester Johnson officiated at the double ring ceremony. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Kruckeberg, 715 W. Commercial street, and Mr. and Mrs. William Jacobson, route 2, Kaukauna.

Mrs. M. W. Jacobson

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by Miss Janice Kruckeberg, Appleton, sister of the bride, who was maid of honor, and Miss Joyce Gieschen, Appleton, the bridesmaid. Joseph Taylor, Green Bay, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man. Groomsman was Alton Kruckeberg, Appleton, brother of the bride. Kenneth Gradl, Hortonville, cousin of the bride, and Kurtis Mau, Kaukauna, cousin of the bridegroom, were ushers.

Hot Citrus Drinks Help Common Cold

The common cold is truly a pest during the winter months—particularly as there isn't a sure-fire cure. Health experts agree that the best prevention is to keep up your health and stamina.

Vitamin C, found so abundantly in oranges and lemons, is one of the best "ounce of prevention" treatments. The vitamin is especially effective in fighting infections and fever.

Researchers have found vitamin C in the white blood cells, important in building up a defense against pneumonia or other bacterial diseases which often accompany or follow a cold.

Three Stages of Cold
Try to score a "cold-less" winter, but if you don't, know these three stages of the cold and what to do for relief in each:

1. The first stage or "dry" stage as it may be called is characterized by dry nasal membranes, frequent sneezing and an uncomfortable dry feeling along the nasal passages.

Inhaling moist air is recommended—it may be in a hot shower or over steaming water.

Drink Extra Liquids
2. The second stage is the "wet" or "runny nose" stage. At this time extra liquids are helpful to restore the fluid balance of nasal and sinus membranes. Hot citrus drinks give the needed vitamin C boost.

Rest and keeping comfortably warm is important. Aspirin products are good as a mild pain reliever and as an aid to reduce the fever which may accompany a cold.

3. The third stage is the one you may be able to avoid. Swelling of the nasal tissue causes stuffiness and headaches. Medicines to shrink the nose tissue will make you comfortable, as will aspirin products. For fastest results, periods of breathing moist air and drinking plenty of liquids still are needed.

Hot Citrus Drinks
Whether you are patient or nurse, you'll enjoy hot citrus beverages. And why wait until you are sick? Boost your vitamin C the easy way with drinks such as hot honey lemonade or hot spiced citrus tea.

Hot Honey Lemonade
3 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
3 tablespoons honey
1 cup boiling water

Combine ingredients and mix thoroughly. Stir with cinnamon stick if desired. Makes one serving. Maple syrup may be substituted for the honey.

Hot Spiced Citrus Tea
5 cups freshly boiling water
5 tea bags or 5 teaspoons tea
10 whole cloves
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup sugar

Pour boiling water over tea. Add cloves and cinnamon. Allow to steep for five minutes. Strain tea and add sugar and citrus juices. Heat just below boiling point. Sieve hot with half a cartwheel slice in each cup. Makes six servings.

3 cup fresh orange juice

Outagamie County Homemakers received instructions in First Aid as their February project. Scott Brammer, right, instructs Mrs. Russell Luckow, left, Mrs. John Wiegand and Mrs. Howard Pekarske, the victim, at a meeting at the Red Cross headquarters.

New Gum Good for Drivers

Calory counters and weight watchers may have an edge on warding off highway accidents on long-haul family trips according to an article recently published. Author Paul W. Kearney offers this safety tip:

"Don't overeat. Many tourists encourage drowsiness by eating too much on a trip. One pharmaceutical company has brought out a mint-flavored chewing gum with a harmless medication that 'anesthetizes' co-called hunger pangs. Intended for dieters, this might be a good aid to keep travelers from becoming logy from over-eating."

If your family is planning a long automobile trip or if your husband's business requires heavy mileage behind the wheel, you'll be interested in this gum.

In simple terms, the gum quiets false hunger pangs and helps you to exercise your "won't" power. This is accomplished by means of a benzocaine - methylcellulose complex, a safe, pleasant, anorexiant agent formulated in mint - flavored gum tablets. "Occasional coffee breaks are fine, but overeating is dangerous," points out the article. Chewing a piece of gum ten minutes before you pull over to a roadside restaurant will help you overcome the tendency to eat too much.

Homemakers to Finish February, March Events

Outagamie county homemakers designated February as an open month whereby groups could have local meetings, local projects and be able to attend the special interest first aid courses conducted at the Red Cross Headquarters. The latter part of February and March will be devoted to property transfers topic.

The first aid courses were conducted in the Dale area, Seymour and Appleton. Property transfer meetings will be held at 8 p.m. today for the Little Chute homemakers and at 8 p.m. Thursday for the Seymour center, which will meet at the Scout building in Seymour.

The bidding:
West North East South
Pass Pass 1 D D'ble
Pass 2 D Pass 2 S
Pass 4 S Pass Pass
D'ble Pass Pass Pass
Considering North's original pass, it was questionable for South to make a takeout double of the diamond bid, but he was lucky to find North with a good hand. North was correct in cue-bidding the opponent's suit, thereby asking South to name a suit.
West opened the diamond nine. East put up the king and shifted to hearts. Declarer considered letting the heart lead ride to dummy, since this would be his only method of finessing, but he wisely decided against this course and put up the ace.
South ruffed a diamond in dummy, then returned to his own club king to ruff another diamond. He cashed the ace of clubs and ruffed a club, then led his last diamond.
It did not matter whether West ruffed this trick, forcing dummy's ace, or discarded his last club. He chose the latter course. Declarer ruffed the diamond with the trump seven, then cashed the trump ace. When he next led the last club dummy, the defenders were helpless. East, to keep South from discarding on the club ten at the expense of a high trump from West, ruffed in with the spade six, but South simply overruffed, and now West was stuck. If he refused to overruff South, the latter would merely lay down the top heart, dropping West's queen (which would now be blank), and lead another heart to the jack; and when West actually overruffed and drew South's last trump, he had to lead from the heart queen. Dummy's jack won, and South's heart king was the fulfilling trick.

Airman, Faroe Island Girl Fight Red Tape In Race to Wedding

Copenhagen — An American airman and his Faroe Island sweetheart arrived here today en route to Iceland where they hope to wed.

Bespectacled Walter Baldwin, 28, of Cleveland, Ohio, told reporters he and 20-year-old Kirsten Anthoniussen plan to board the first plane for Iceland, where he is due back at the U.S. Keflavick air base by Friday.

The next plane for Reykjavik leaves Tuesday morning. Baldwin said he did not know where he and Kirsten would stay until then.

But troubles were not over for Baldwin, whose tour of duty expires April 2. Complicated Marriage Laws He could only hope that Icelandic authorities would have to wink at their complicated marriage laws under which Kirsten should have set foot on Iceland's soil before the end of February. He also must get the approval of his commanding officer. Baldwin neglected to give him the required month's notice of intent to wed.

"There has been too much fuss about this thing already," Baldwin said. "I have been questioned by newsmen everywhere ever since I left Iceland last month to pick up my girl on the Faroe Isles. It is getting on our nerves."

Met in Iceland
The romance started nine months ago in Iceland, where Walter is stationed and Kirsten worked as a nurse. Last month it developed into a race against time.

Walter proposed, and last month Kirsten whispered "Yes" over the telephone. Walter decided to fight against time. Between the Faroe Islands and Iceland there is no regular service, so he had to go to Scotland, where he boarded a fishing smack bound for Thorshavn, the Faroe capital.

Last Lap of Race
Kirsten met him at Thorshavn, and Saturday the couple left the Faroe Islands aboard the cargo-liner Tjaldur for Copenhagen. Tuesday morning they will

Ann Answers Question of Girl, 24, 'What Is Love?'

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: I'm 24 and have been dating since I was 15. I've fallen for many fellows. Some romances lasted a week, others as long as a year. How does a gal know when she's really in love?

The current boy friend seems to be Ann Landers getting serious. He's wonderful in many ways but I don't know if I love him. When he was out of town for three weeks I missed him terribly. Had he asked me to marry him the night he returned I probably would have said yes. Now I'm unsure again.

What is love? How can one tell it from a passing fancy? How will I know?—In a Fog

Dear In A Fog: If you're waiting for your eyes to light up like a pinball machine, don't. It won't happen.

Real love doesn't knock you on the head like a chunk of loose plaster. Love must take root and grow—one day at a time.

Love is friendship that has caught fire. It is quiet understanding, solid confidence, sharing and forgiving. It is loyalty, through good times and bad. It survives dark moods and makes allowances for human frailties. It settles for less than perfection.

Love is a mirror of life. It is real—not a bed of roses or a paradise in fairyland. Love, like life, can be challenging and even heart-breaking. But the person who can face both life and love with confidence and courage—and give of himself for the sheer joy of giving—is sure to find joy and contentment. For loving IS living.

the talk she said to pay no attention. She claims Uncle Frank is an honorable man. When she said yes I was in and good company for her. Do you feel we should say any more to Mother or shall we let the matter drop?—S AND J.

Dear S and J: Say one more thing to Mother, then let the matter drop. Tell her if Uncle Frank is such "good company" they should get married or he ought to live elsewhere. Even though he (like Brutus) is an honorable man, your mother (like Caesar's wife) should be above suspicion.

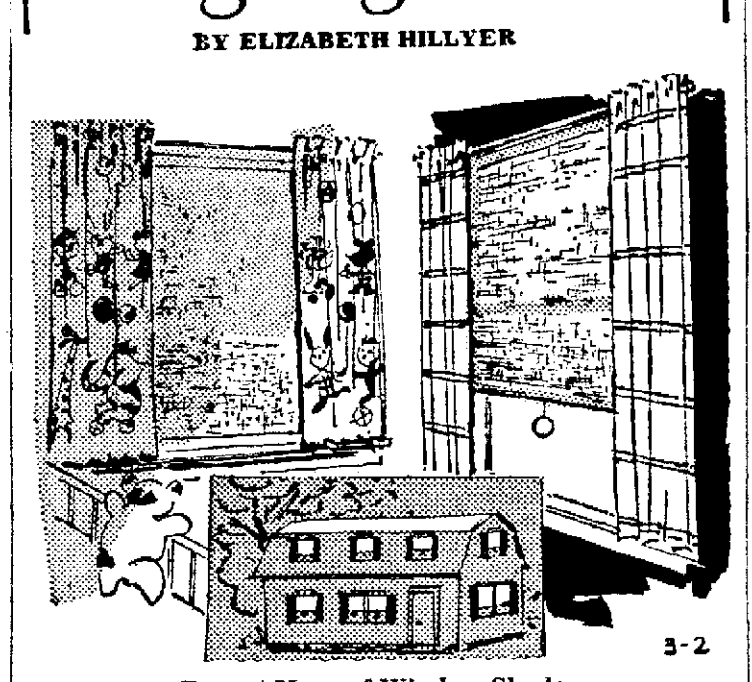

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm 17 and never liked a girl before I met Martha. She's so popular I was afraid to ask her for a date because I didn't want to get refused. I finally invited her to a Saturday matinee, three weeks in advance. When she said yes I was in the clouds.

The Saturday before our date I saw a pretty locket in a store window. I decided to surprise her and have it engraved with her initials. The morning of the big day I phoned to say what time I'd pick her up. She told me then she was sorry she'd said yes and that she didn't want to go with me. I was very disappointed. Now I wonder if I should give her the locket anyway. It has her initials and I have no use for it.—Jim

Dear Jim: Don't give her the locket. Chalk this one up to experience and learn a lesson from it. Never buy a gift for a girl unless you are dead sure she thinks enough of you so that giving it makes sense.

Expect More of Window Shades

DEAR ANN: We are two sisters, 16 and 18, both in high school. Our dad passed away a year ago.

Dad's cousin came in from Canada for the funeral. He stayed at our house and has been here ever since. He has asked that we call him Uncle Frank and seems like a perfectly nice man. But the neighbors are gossiping and the relatives have had plenty to say.

He got himself a good job (he's a tool and die worker) and Mom says he helps out with the bills. He sleeps on one side and white on the other, the sun porch and keeps his car in our garage.

When we told mother about the problems are pre-solved. It isn't necessary to forego room scheme shade been here ever since. He has colors for the sake of the out-side appearance of the house—every room can have a different color while the shades are uniformly white toward the street. Dark shades aren't needed to darken a room—special room-darkening shades are made in tints and white, or with color on one side and white on the other. And the old vexation and expense of having to replace shades before they were worn because they no longer cleaned properly disappeared with the coming of vinyl impregnations.

Sketched is a new shade which scores on all these problems—solver points and has something new to offer besides. It prints colors in a texture—like pattern on white to decorate the room in a new way. The reverse side is white for the outdoors view, both the translucent and the room-darkening weights are available and the vinyl they are impregnated with makes them easily washable with mild suds and extra long-wearing.

Mrs. L. L. "I like the idea of the rug matching the walls, but we have a sandalwood rug in our living room and wouldn't the same color be too dark for our furnishings? The sofa and one chair are teal blue, another chair is brown, the tables are medium walnut and the draperies have touches of bright turquoise with the teal, yellow-green and dark green and brown on a white background."

A much lighter shade of the sandalwood color for the walls will still create the effect you like, and it's often a better plan to make the floor darker than the walls than to match them exactly. Have you thought of repeating the bright turquoise and yellow-green in accessories? Although white lampshades may be almost enough, the white of the drapery background should be repeated, and gold or brass is good emphasis for this scheme.

Mrs. J. B. B. "We have a small living room and a small dining room and would like to remove the wall between them and make one large room. Do you think this is a good idea?"

One large room is very often much pleasanter than two small ones, and certainly builders of homes for a number of years now have featured the living-dining room. If you feel that the enjoyment of a larger, more open space is worth skipping a separate dining room, the removal of the wall is probably a good plan for you, but how practical it is depends on the complications of the removal, which must be determined by consulting a remodeling expert.

Ninety Members of the Catholic clergy and nuns attended a special performance of "The Cradle Song" given by the Lawrence college theater Saturday afternoon in Memorial union. The play opens its regular run at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday evening, with Ted Cloak as director and Joseph Hopfensperger in charge of technical details. "The Cradle Song" which is set in a Dominican convent, was written by Gregorio Martinez Sierra in collaboration with his wife. The play runs Tuesday through Saturday.

Our Children Substitute Teachers Serve Important Role in Education

BY ANGELO PATRI

There is something about substitute teachers that the general public might profit by knowing about, so I'm going to try to shed a little light on the subject.

When a teacher is absent for a day or so, a substitute teacher fills her place. This teacher is not likely to be able to do much more than keep the class busy because she does not know what lessons have been covered, what the class is prepared to do as the next step. This is not too serious. The regular teacher returns and the work moves ahead.

What people consider serious about the substitute teacher is that she is found often these days teaching the whole term through and the next and the next so that she may be a "regular" substitute. This happens when there are more classes than licensed teachers. When people hear that a school has an unusually large number of substitute teachers teaching regularly, they think the children are being cheated. This is not always so.

Consider this. A substitute who teaches the same class rules. Yet they can teach. Some substitutes do not school for years, is under the same leadership, supervision and guidance as is the regular teacher. The principal and the superintendent rate her as they do the regular. Would it not seem odd then, that this approved teacher, and she must have been approved by her superiors to remain so long a teacher in the school, should be looked at as inferior?

I know by reading reports that in some places teachers of little training, without degrees, have to be employed. This is not always a hardship either. I know that many a young teacher armed with a degree has to learn how to teach by experience under good supervision. An experienced principal once said that a young beginner owed the city money for her first three years of service.

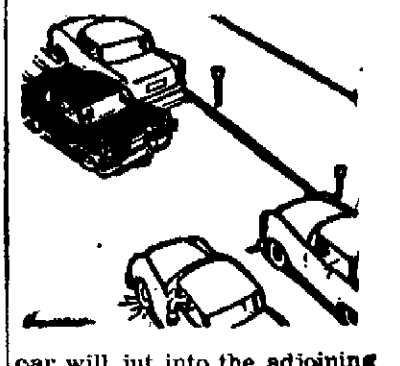

Before worrying about the substitutes in schools, one should know the substitutes. Many of them are good teachers. Many have had experience in teaching; some are teachers who resigned after teaching for a time, and have returned but cannot qualify for a license under the new rules. Yet they can teach. The 26-year-old Valentino,

Safe Driving Tip Signal if You Intend To Park

Backing into a curbside parking space on a busy street requires a sharp lookout through the rear window for approaching traffic.

Often in crowded districts the driver following you does not know you are going to park, the Chicago Motor club points out, so be sure to signal him.

Don't forget that when backing into a parking place, the left front fender of your car will jut into the adjoining traffic lane. Wait for an opening before starting the rearward swing.

Fireman Had Reason For False Alarms

Tulsa, Okla. —A fireman of five years seniority was charged here after he admitted turning in two false alarms within 17 minutes.

Rome Fashion Designer Shows Girlish Styles

Rome —M. Valentino, a young Paris trained designer new to Rome, presented his first collection here today—a frothy, girlish blossoming in pink and green.

Daytime clothes were mainly 3-piece suits whose collarless, yoke-bound blouses matched their jacket linings.

Jackets themselves were largely collarless, loose with indications of a shrunken waist, hip-length and dropped sleeves. Skirts were moderately full with side-front gathering, and moderately long over the kneecap.

The 26-year-old Valentino, espoused the crescent waist, rising in front, and the ribbon cage clasp. His wide velvet and suede belts sometimes threaded under flat, flying panels. His flowered prints were little girl flavored in strawberry and lime. His sleeves were sometimes puffed at the wrist.

For evening, the young designer featured fur-trimmed organdy coats over pastel or gandy gowns. One pink dancing outfit had chinchilla cuffs and a diaphanous, Cinderella flow.

Valentino served his Paris apprenticeship with Jean Desses and Guy La Roche.

Beauty Stimulant

At this time of year, most skin are literally left out in the cold.

There are several reasons for it and circulation is the basis of all. Either the circulatory system has grown sluggish over the winter or it has been diverted from the skin's full use.

Lack of fresh air, sun and exercise is the cause of sluggishness. Neglect of the skin by the blood stream is due to cold weather. In order to keep the body warm, the blood courses through the tightening and smoothing. But main arteries and veins, and the capillaries just under the skin lovely as springtime.

Used twice weekly, stimulating creams work to draw the blood to the surface. This not only brightens the skin but helps rid it of impurities. Some stimulating creams offer additional benefits in the tightening and smoothing. But one and all, they make the skin lovely as springtime.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery. In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place. And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months! In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing. All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body. This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. 6 Get Caps as Gray Ladies At Sanatorium

Complete Training At Riverview in Hospital Section

Little Chute — Capping ceremonies for six Red Cross Gray Ladies was held at Riverview Sanatorium.

Women completing their training at the hospital section of the sanatorium were Mrs. H. I. Heule and Mrs. Matt Verkuilen, Kimberly; Mrs. Louis Lesselyoung, Mrs. Hilary Feldkamp, Mrs. Russell Johns, and Mrs. Wenzel Conrad, all of Kaukauna.

The program was started in November at the sanatorium. The women worked three mornings a week in the hospital section. Along with visiting patients, they serve them personally giving manicures and fixing their hair. Reading to patients is another part of the program and in good weather they take walks with them.

On holidays and special occasions parties are conducted by the Gray Ladies.

Red Cross officials have announced that a new training

New Twist

Tucson Police Film Tippy Drivers' Acts

Tucson, Ariz. — The Tucson police department is in the movie business, but the department's film stars don't get paid. Usually they wind up paying.

The department began making movies of persons arrested for drunk driving last summer. So far 36 films have been made.

The films have helped obtain 32 convictions for drunken driving. The remaining cases are awaiting final action.

The movie set used by the police is a narrow passageway in the police station.

Police Lt. Kenneth C. Yeazel is director, cameraman and sound engineer. The camera is focused on the hallway, sound equipment is adjusted, floodlights turned on and the film is rolled as the suspected drunken driver comes onstage.

Small Cast
The cast is small—usually the motorist and a questioning officer.

The script seldom varies. The driver is asked to pronounce: Methodist, Episcopal and electricity.

If he gets by those tongue-twisters, he is given a run-through on: "Around the rugged rock the ragged rascal ran."

Usually, police note, the suspect does a little ad libbing.

Added Motion
To spice things a bit, the suspect is asked to walk a straight line, close his eyes and touch the tip of his nose with his finger and pick a few coins off the floor.

Each film costs the city about $12.

Although the films are admissible as courtroom evidence, none has been shown in court. "The need hasn't arisen," said Yeazel.

He explained that attorneys for the 36 drivers filmed by police were given sneak previews. In each case, he said, none of the attorneys pleaded innocent for their clients.

KRA Archers Lose Close Match to Winnebago Club

Kimberly — Rival Winnebago Archers defeated the Kimberly Recreation association team 2,992 to 2,968 in the closest match of the season.

In another mail match meet the KRA scored a 2,986 to 2,944 victory over the Fond du Lac team.

KRA scores against the Winnebago team were Tony Eckes, Sr., 766; Jerry Johnson, 742; Norb Ohm, 742 and Della Grimm, 718.

Winnebago scores were: Archie Koerner, 764; Bob Roeme, 754; Don Rhorbeck, 738 and Jim Ayres, 736.

Against the Fond du Lac team Eckes led the KRA with a 768 count, Ohm had 760; George Schommer, 734 and Johnson, 724.

For Fond du Lac, Court Fries had 760; Sam Barba, 756; Bud LaPine, 736 and Jim Blackburn, 692.

Social Worker at Homme Home for Statewide Study

Nobody Lives There Named 'Occupant'

Louisville, Ky. — Kenny Sherrard, a mail carrier, meets all kinds of people.

"But nothing will top the man who ran out of his house after I'd dropped a letter marked 'occupant' in his box," Sherrard recalls.

"Hey," the man yelled, "nobody by this name lives here."

Over $1,300 Collected in Kimberly Polio Campaign

Kimberly — A total of $1,362.26 was collected in the annual polio drive here, according to Paul Lochschmidt, chairman.

The breakdown of the funds showed that $919.52 came in the house to house canvass, $100 from organizations and industry, $26.85 from the teenage Blue Crutch sale, $23.89 from coin containers and $292 from the community toll bridge. Postage expense for the drive was $4.

Those who aided in the village canvass included Mrs. Walter Vanden Boom, Mrs. Otto Wichman, Mrs. Cornelius Boelhower, Jr., Mrs. Ray Krueger, Mrs. Walter Schomish, Mrs. Francis Frassetto, Mrs. Louis Couillard, Mrs. Herman DeLeeuw, Mrs. Leonard Mantel, Mrs. Allen Treichel, Mrs. Wilbur Strick, Mrs. Jacob Van Hammond and Mrs. Howard Meyer.

Counter-Proposal on Regional Plan Drafted

Wood Urges Commission to Compromise Its Objection Last Unit Fold

The Appleton city planning commission this morning approved a counter-proposal to the regional master plan proposal offered by the regional planning commission.

Councilmen will vote Wednesday night whether to forward the counter-draft to the regional commission as an expression of the city's feeling.

The Appleton action would be the first official expression by any of the 10 municipalities in the commission on the contract proposed by Metropolitan Planners, Inc., Indianapolis, Ind., for a comprehensive development plan for each municipality and the entire region.

May Cancel Trip
Mayor Mitchell indicated that if the council approves the counter-proposal he will cancel a scheduled trip to Wisconsin Rapids in order to attend the Thursday night commission session with Director of Public Works Duszynski, who drafted the counter-proposal at the urging of the city planners.

The city commissioners approved Duszynski's suggestions after a lengthy discussion with Commission Chairman Wood and Regional Planner Hammond.

Wood urged the commission to compromise its objections or "the commission will fold."

Duszynski termed Wood's viewpoint as a threat.

Duszynski repeated his contention throughout discussion that the proposal "contains too much local planning" which should be left to the individual governments.

What's What?
Wood and Hammond agreed a few items in the proposal like a capital improvements program for each municipality, probably could be left out. Wood said he couldn't see how it could cost enough to matter.

Duszynski said he was told by Metropolitan the improvements plan was not necessary.

All speakers reiterated their belief in regional planning.

The bone of contention appeared to be a difference in what is regional, what is local.

Hammond explained that it was unfortunate that at the outset the regional plan was sold on the basis of "city limits out."

Wrong Idea
He said this was done before he arrived and the idea is incorrect. Regional planning, he said, demands planning from the "inside out."

He likened the situation otherwise to a wheel without spokes.

Wood and Mrs. LeRoy Stohlman, the city's representative on the regional commission, said all four large planning firms which were contacted agreed that local planning was a must for the regional plan.

Duszynski said he agrees in part, but not to the extent that it appears in the metropolitan proposal.

His counter-proposal eliminates many of the maps and is an attempt to pinpoint what is needed in his view and that of the commission.

Today's Deaths

William Kramer

William Kramer, 78, route 1, Kaukauna, died at 3:30 a.m. today at his home after a short illness. He was born July 14, 1880, in the town of Osborn, where he farmed until retiring and moving to Freedom eight years ago.

Funeral services will be at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday at St. Nicholas Catholic church, Freedom, with burial in the parish cemetery. Friends may call at the Verkullen Funeral home, Little Chute, after 7 p.m. today. The rosary will be said at the funeral home at 8 p.m. today and Tuesday.

might solve his budget balancing problem for the first year of his term but would not be sufficient for the second year.

Thus withholding would not guarantee that taxes would not be raised.

Political Advantage
The political advantage of withholding is that about two-thirds of the windfall revenue would go to cities, towns and villages, which would grasp it eagerly as a means of stabilizing property taxes.

The governor hinted that if he gets withholding, he may propose to use the state's 1-year windfall to finance a state building program. His present budget does not provide for the continuation of the state institution building fund.

Nelson plainly indicated his desire for a withholding system, when, in contradiction to earlier testimony by the state tax department, he outlined how it would improve the efficiency of state income tax collections.

Stop 'Slippage'
People moving in and out of the state, people who work in Wisconsin but live in adjacent states, seasonal and migratory workers, and those who live and earn here, but escape detection by state auditors, would be caught up in such an act, he said. He described such present losses to the state as "slippage."

There also are many delinquent income taxpayers under the present system, he said, who would be helped in keeping their tax accounts current.

A withholding tax law would apply to about two-thirds of the present 1,500,000 state income taxpayers. The other third would be required to file estimates of their incomes, with quarterly tax payments, as under the rules of the federal government.

Adolph L. Skowen

Adolph L. Skowen, 79, Iola, died Sunday at his home after a long illness. He was born June 8, 1879, in the town of Amherst.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Thursday at the North New Hope Lutheran church, with burial in the church cemetery. Friends may call at the Voie Funeral home, Iola, from noon Wednesday until noon Thursday and then at the church.

Survivors include the widow, three daughters, Mrs. Glen Rasmussen, Iola, Mrs. Robert Townsend, Scandinavia, and Miss Dagney Skowen, at home; three sons, Harmon, Stevens Point, Elmore, Iola, and Leland, Appleton; seven grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Mathias Dienes

Mrs. Mathias Dienes, 76, route 2, Menasha, died unexpectedly at 1 a.m. today at her home. She was born Jan. 21, 1883, in the town of Ellington and lived in the Fox Cities area all her life.

Funeral services will be at 11 a.m. Wednesday at the Bretschneider Funeral home, with burial in Highland Memorial park. The rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the funeral home, where friends may call after 12 p.m. Tuesday.

Survivors include her husband; one daughter, Mrs. W. C. Ridley, St. Paul, Minn.; one son, Clarence Horn, Appleton; 8 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

FWD to Point at Civilian Work

Maurice Ash Tells Clintonville A of C Of Firm's Program

Clintonville — The FWD corporation's intention to concentrate on civilian business, constitutes a major change in the firm's policy of recent years and should result in the best financial base ever enjoyed by the company.

Maurice Ash, president of the manufacturing organization, laid down this outline of FWD's hopes for the future in an address before the Clintonville Association of Commerce.

"Our goal is yet two years away," Ash told the businessmen, "and a tremendous amount of work lies between this meeting tonight and reaching that goal. It means we'll be concentrating less on military orders in favor of civilian transactions."

Bit of Selling

Ash looked to the future of Clintonville and said "perhaps we have to do a bit of selling here. We must get our prospect list together and get out and do some soliciting."

He said FWD has a key role in luring new industry into Clintonville. "The stronger our firm is, the better it will be for attracting other types of business here. We need a greater diversification of employment, our businessmen need more trade and we have to, generally, work to make our community more attractive to outside firms."

Labor Force

Ash listed the available labor force, tax base, general community economy, education system and church life as items looked for by companies seeking new locations. Other items investigated, he said, include social climate, political climate, cooperation of the people and sense of loyalty on the part of the people toward the community.

"I think," Ash told the association, "that one of the most important things to think about would be community assets and I am sure that is what you people have been doing. Anticipate what might be needed by new industries. Try to find out what to sell."

Building a community, he said, is something like building a business. Neither comes in an easy way.

"At FWD," the executive declared, "our personal and community interests are essentially identical. Our needs are the community's needs, and, therefore, you can be sure we will do our best for you."

Antigo Woman Faces Trial for Sending Threatening Letters

Appleton — Mrs. Franklin Mays, 32, Antigo, has been bound over for trial in U. S. District court in Milwaukee on a charge of threatening her landlady through the mails.

Mrs. Mays was held under $5,000 bond following her appearance before U. S. Commissioner Stanley Gabert Saturday. No date was set for the trial.

The FBI arrested Mrs. Mays on a charge she sent a threatening letter to Mrs. Lee De Wan, her landlady, because there was not sufficient heat in her apartment.

Treasury Has Difficulty Managing National Debt

BY FRANK CORMIER

Washington — Uncle Sam is having trouble borrowing the billions he needs to stay in business.

No one doubts he'll get the money he requires, one way or another. The question is: What price will he have to pay—in terms of dollars, economic difficulty and possible inflation?

If the price gets high enough, a financial crisis could develop. Treasury officials say they're optimistic but their concern is apparent.

The government's plight was dramatized last month when $9 billion of loans supplied by private lenders came due. Like any harried debtor, Uncle Sam asked his creditors to renew the loans. As encouragement, he offered them new and more generous terms.

The lenders — banks, corporations and individuals — had

There is growing concern in Washington about the treasury's difficulties in managing a record national debt of $286 billion. This is the first of a series of articles assessing the situation.

a choice. They could renew their loans for one year and collect 3 per cent interest or renew for three years and get 4 per cent.

Historically, these interest rates are very high. In some cases, they were more than double the rate paid on the original loans.

Nevertheless, $2 billion of clined to blame "technical factors." However, they concede some of the responsibility belongs to these other — more ominous — factors:

1. Fear of rising interest rates in a period of economic recovery.
2. Fear of inflation. If an investor believes inflation is the "wave of the future," he doesn't want to tie up his money in a government I. O. U. — a treasury security — that would depreciate in value. He's more apt to invest in common stocks or real estate, hoping their value will keep pace with inflation.

Fear Inflation

Bonds and similar debt securities are vulnerable to inflation. As living costs rise, the market price of a bond drops because the dollars it represents are losing value.

All interest rates tend to rise in periods of inflation. Lenders need more incentive to make a loan since they'll be paid back in dollars of diminishing value.

You don't have to have rising prices, however, to get rising interest rates. Prices have held virtually steady since last June. Still, in that time, the interest demanded on 3-month loans to the government has virtually tripled. Such a rise in rates is due to market factors. If the supply of money available for lending decreases, or the demand for loans increases, interest rates rise.

Since last summer, the demand for loans by the treasury — the world's biggest borrower — has mounted because of a $13 billion budget deficit.

Meanwhile, the federal reserve board has been restricting credit — in effect, holding down the supply of money available for lending. The board has done this in hopes of preventing an inflation of credit which could inflate the whole economy.

Both these developments have put upward pressure on interest rates.

Adding to that pressure, many investors have decided inflation is coming and so have declined to lend.

It is in this environment that the treasury is financing a record national debt of $286 billion. That it is having problems is not surprising.

Lawrence Says: Tax Exemption Ruling May Hurt Unions

Decision Also Could Affect Some Charity Foundations

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — The supreme court of the United States has just handed down a decision which could point the way to the removal of the tax exemption now granted labor unions. Many charitable foundations also appear to be in danger of losing that exemption.

For the first time in 40 years, the supreme court dealt specifically with those treasury regulations denying corporations or individuals the right to deduct from their gross income for tax purposes any expenses in promoting the passage or defeat of legislation, federal, state, or city.

The ruling affirms laws which say that lobbying and other such activities by individuals or organizations are constitutionally protected, but that they must be given no tax favors.

The supreme court declares:

Not For Suppression

"Nondiscriminatory denial of deduction from gross income to sums expended to promote or defeat legislation is plainly not aimed at the suppression of dangerous ideas. Rather, it appears to us to express a determination by congress that since purchased publicity can influence the fate of legislation which will affect, directly or indirectly, all in the community, everyone in the community should stand on the same footing as regards its purchase so far as the treasury of the United States is concerned."

But what is a nondiscriminatory denial of deduction? This means that every individual and every organization of individuals must be treated alike. The court, in support of its argument, pointed to the way private organizations are given tax exemptions provided they do not engage in propaganda activity.

While it did not mention labor unions which today indirectly finance political activities and so-called educational propaganda, the following paragraphs in the latest decision are significant:

"The statutory policy is further evidenced by the treatment given by congress to the tax status of organizations, otherwise qualified for exemption as organized exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary or educational purposes, which engage in activities designed to promote or defeat legislation.

Amended Code

"As early as 1934 congress amended the internal revenue code expressly to provide that no tax exemption should be given to organizations, otherwise qualifying, a substantial part of the activities of which is carrying on propaganda, or otherwise attempting to influence legislation, and that deductibility should be denied contributions by individuals to such organizations. And a year thereafter, when the code was for the first time amended to permit corporations to deduct certain contributions not qualifying as ordinary and necessary business expenses, an identical limitation was imposed."

The current case dealt with expenses incurred by certain dealers in alcoholic beverages who contributed to organizations in the states of Washington and Arkansas attempting to fight proposed legislation which the dealers claimed would put them out of business. Plainly, under the usual definition which permits deductions for ordinary and necessary business expenses, these items were entitled to a deduction, but the treasury, in denying the deduction, has been guided by the act of congress relating to propaganda or activities seeking the passage or defeat of legislation.

The case may have a bearing on the efforts of electric light and power companies to carry on publicity seeking to prevent government ownership of their business. Some senators who favor the TVA-type of government ownership have been battling with the electric light companies, arguing that the latter can pay for all the publicity they wish but must not deduct from their gross income for tax purposes any expenses incurred in such campaigns.

Tax Exemptions

But if the individuals and corporations cannot get deductions for expenses they deem so necessary to their own survival, can the treasury any longer permit labor unions to engage in political activities and get a total tax exemption? The supreme court seems to imply that there can be no discrimination and that everyone in the community should stand on the same footing in purchasing propaganda.

Many millions of dollars were spent by labor-union members through specially created organizations last autumn in the fight against right to work laws in several states. Was this activity of a nature that would require labor unions to pay taxes on their total income and to lose their tax exemption? Corporations are forbidden by law to contribute to such educational campaigns, so evidently they have not been standing on the same footing.

Also, some charitable foundations have lately been spending vast sums for tele-

On the House Last of His Line, Hortonville Farmer Talks of Family's Past

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Hortonville — An old stone and mortar house near here, roofless, cracking and sagging, its way into tomorrow, brought me to an abrupt stop in search of a story — and I found three.

Each story belongs to the one, for there is a tale in the beginning and in the ending and in the house, too, there lies a tale.

The old stone house stands on Highway 10 between Appleton and Medina, on the century farm of Merle M. Culbertson. Nestled in a frame of evergreen trees, the roofless skeleton has stirred the curiosity of passers-by for many years.

It has its beginning in the forgotten history of Wisconsin, for it was built on the site of an ancient, cool spring which was a favorite watering place for the Indians. Many campfire sites attest to this . . . But one day in 1847 . . .

The family of Culbertson lived in Vevay, Ind. John Culbertson, great-grandfather of the present Merle, had the pioneer spirit . . .

A family conference, ably reported in a family history book, stirred John and his son Matthew to seek cheap, unoccupied land, to improve it and "to let it grow into value with time." They thought of Wisconsin and asked questions of one Walter Scott, a Vevay neighbor.

Said he: "The land is good but the weather is too cold."

They questioned Esquire Crandle, who had been a soldier on duty at Fort Howard.

Ice in June

Said he: "It is so cold that there is often ice in the Fox river even in June. Wisconsin is beautiful but it is too far north. It will never be settled."

But Alexander Mc Kinzie, a family friend who then lived in a shack in Medina, wrote: "I hope that William Scott will not discourage you about Wisconsin. The weather has not been very bad . . . a man can chop trees very comfortably."

Great-Grandfather John and Grandfather Matthew, then young men, came to Wisconsin and built a shack on the site of the present lovely home. Matthew walked 12 miles into Neenah to buy boards to make the door. They became the first settlers in the town. Their land, then four 160-acre tracts, cost $1.25 per acre . . .

Unused for 30 Years

The present owner, Merle, recalls that it was used in his vision programs described as educational but which present views on controversial questions involving legislative policy. The foundations have a right to do this, but do they have a right to retain their tax exemptions if individuals who try to do the same thing are penalized? That's the issue raised anew by the supreme court's latest decision.

all-trades in Minnesota. Glen, 67, is a retired railroad man in Michigan. And Merle runs the old family farm . . .

No Wish to Farm

This quiet, soft-spoken, thoroughly honest Culbertson had never truly wished to become a farmer. His dad hoped he would.

For a time Merle escaped the farm. He lived in Two Rivers, Milwaukee and Green Bay for 10 years. His brothers, however, had no wish to be farmers, so—at Henry's call—Merle came back to the farm.

Now 59 years old, Merle is subdued, quiet and doubtful about the future of the farm. Misfortunes came in a parade and smote harder than seems just.

Last year his adopted son, 20, was killed in an automobile accident ("He was the finest boy you could ever hope to meet; he was just a wonderful young fellow.") A month later, his beloved wife died.

Today Merle, the man who never wanted to be a farmer, faces an enigma for which there seems no answer. His adopted daughter, Sandra, is soon to be wed. His family ties have faded with the passing of uncles and aunts. Of his friends from the Cedar Grove 1-room school which he attended, only a few are left.

Merle's father, Henry, who was a son of Matthew, raised three sons and a daughter. She is Mrs. Donna Clark of Appleton. Clyde is a jack-of-quot. But still remaining, and line. I don't know what to do descended from old John, is with the old family farm. Perhaps I could rent it and live in the other house (there are two; one was built for a tenant farmer in past years).

Keep Moving

"Many of my old friends have moved or have passed away," Merle said. "People in the last 10 or 15 years have seemed less permanent than before. They keep moving to other places."

"But I'm the last or our

Guidance Topic Of Teacher Training Talk

Weyauwega — Lawrence P. Blum of the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, is conducting a series of training meetings on "Guidance for Teachers" for faculty members of the Iola, Manawa and Weyauwega public schools.

The need for a guidance program was the topic at the Weyauwega session. The excessive number of above average students who drop out of school before graduation shows a need for more and better guidance, Blum asserted.

Other reasons offered for the need of guidance included increased complexity of the world. With the many new types of jobs added within recent years, young people tend to prepare for unrealistic vocations and students have personal problems that are not being helped, Blum said.

Tools and techniques of guidance will be delved into at the Manawa meeting Thursday. The final meeting will be held March 12 at Iola.

Perhaps I'll get sheep. I don't know."

We walked down the old lane together and Merle talked solemnly.

"This old tree came from Indiana more than a hundred years ago. It's dying away . . . that grove of trees, I remember, was planted by my dad when I was a boy, and I helped him . . . there's where the first old barn was. It was built in 1854. I helped to tear it down 30 years ago . . .

"No," he said, "it would seem such a shame to leave the old farm."

POST CRESCENT News of the Twin Cities Neenah - Menasha

NHS Debaters
Record 27-11
Mark for Year

Close Season With 7th Place Finish
In State Tourney

Neenah — The Neenah High school varsity debate team closed its season with a record of 27 wins against 11 losses, Coach William Dunwiddie announced today.

Final activity for the squad was the Wisconsin state debate tournament at Madison Friday and Saturday at which Neenah tied for seventh place with one win and seven losses.

The Neenah affirmative team of Dave Loynd and George Dix lost to Hartford, Merrill, LaCrosse Aquinas and Green Bay West. The negative team, composed of Helen Loehning and Nancy Bredendick, defeated Eau Claire Regis but lost to West Bend, Racine St. Catherine and Sheboygan Central. Miss Bredendick received one "Best of Speaker" rating.

First place at the state tournament was shared by West Bend and Sheboygan Central with 7-1 records while Hartford and Racine St. Catherine tied for second with 6-2 each.

Friday night the debaters attended a dinner for all participating teams and heard Dr. Rexford S. Mitchell, president of Wisconsin State college at LaCrosse.

The Neenah varsity negative team had a season record of 15 wins and 4 losses while the affirmative team posted 12 wins against 7 defeats.

Neenah Women Get Divorces in Oshkosh Court

Oshkosh — Elizabeth L. Price, Neenah, was granted a divorce from Phillip A. Price, Neenah, by County Judge Herbert J. Mueller this morning.

She received permission to resume her maiden name of Taves and was awarded household furnishings. Price was ordered to pay her $1,560 at the rate of $15 a week for two years in lieu of alimony and he is to pay her attorney fees and court costs. He received the automobile and personal effects.

Lydia Bartels, 46, Neenah, received a divorce from Ira Bartels, 43, Neenah, on a cruel and inhuman treatment charge in county court Friday afternoon. She will be allowed to resume her maiden name of Monfre.

She received the home, subject to a mortgage, and household furniture. The husband gets his auto and personal effects. The couple was married in Oshkosh in 1953 and separated last June.

Phyllis M. Goodman, 36, Neenah, received a divorce from Ralph Goodman, Neenah, on a cruel and inhuman charge Friday afternoon in county court.

She was permitted to resume her maiden name of Gmeiner. The wife receives $2,500 in lieu of alimony, the car, and household furnishings. They were married in Kenosha in 1952.

Attends Conference

Oshkosh — Esther Thrall, Winnebago county supervising teacher, is attending a national conference for supervising teachers at Cincinnati, Ohio.

Children Make Appeal In Easter Seal Drive

Cite Aid, Treatment Provided Through Funds Raised During Month-Long Campaign

Neenah — Personal appeals from crippled children went into the homes of Neenah-Menasha residents this month urging friends to mail their contributions to Easter seals before the 1959 campaign closes on Easter.

Typical of the appeal is that of 3-year-old Connie Meier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Raymond Meier, 737½ Second street, Menasha, who is serving as the local chapter's official Easter seal representative.

Born with a crippling condition, little Connie receives therapy twice a week at Theda Clark hospital. Her treatments are provided through funds raised from the month-long campaign.

Receive Direct Aid
Many other Twin City children receive direct aid from the unit through the purchase of corrective shoes, braces, surgical care and hospitalization, wheelchairs and other orthopedic appliances.

Parents are urged to apply for services whenever crippling occurs in their families and persons are encouraged to contact the chapter when they know of a case needing help.

Volunteers interested in the physically handicapped form the basic structure with 14 Neenah-Menasha women serving as members of the local board. Under careful medical supervision, the group provides treatment and training for the crippled but it is the entire community which supports these services, according to Mrs. John D. Schmeier, Jr., local chairman.

She pointed out that persons overlooked in the campaign mailing, may contribute by sending a donation to Crippled Children, Box 444, Neenah.

Petition Opposes Change in Neenah Streets Layout

30-Acre Kessler Property Plan
Up for Hearing by Council

Neenah — A petition opposing the change in the original street plan layout for the area between Maple and Congress streets and south of Cecil street is being circulated and is expected to be filed prior to Wednesday night's council meeting.

The council has set a hearing for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday on the change in the street layout proposed for the Kessler property.

The street extension map as originally planned calls for through north-south streets in that area but the proposed change, which is being recommended by the city plans commission, calls for several east-west streets in the area involved and terminating some of the north-south streets.

Through north-south streets on the present plan would be Maple, Higgins and Oak streets while Campbell, Kalfahs and Sande streets would extend north to the proposed extension of Langley street between S. Commercial and Congress streets.

Proposed Layout
Under the Kessler proposal, Maple, Higgins and Oak streets would be continued through as planned but Langley street would run through from Higgins to Congress street and would not run through to Maple street.

A new east-west street known as Kessler drive would run from Maple street to Congress street as the first street south of and parallel to Langley street. A second new east-west street, O'Leary street, would run from Oak street east to Congress street.

Campbell street would extend north to Kessler drive and Kalfahs, Sande and Reed streets would end at O'Leary street. Reed street would continue north again from Ninth wards.

Langley street, a jump of two blocks.

The Kessler property amounts to about 30 acres and contains 140 lots under the plat proposed to the council. Most of the homes would face north or south under the proposed change while at present the homes would face east or west.

Owners of homes in the area south of the Kessler property are reported to be opposing the change. Also interested in the street layout change is the school board which would like to secure some of the property for the new junior high school.

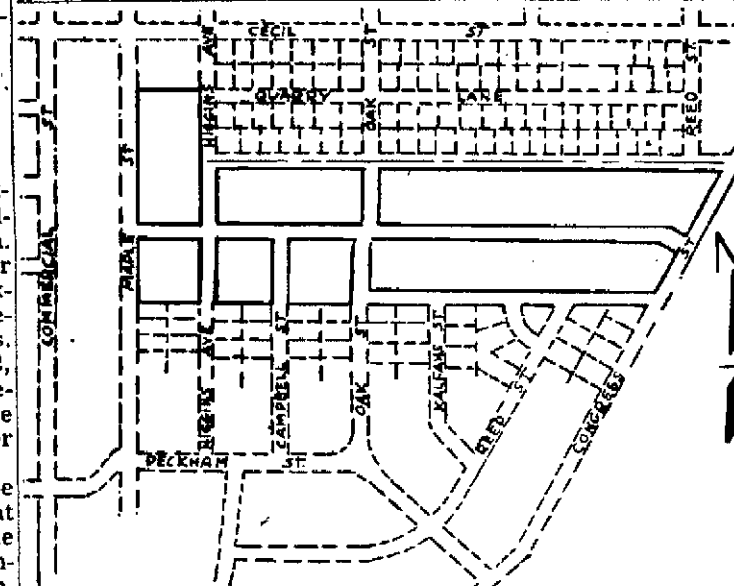

A second hearing scheduled before the council Wednesday night concerns property between Cecil street and the Glenayre plat and between S. Park avenue on the east and Congress street on the west. The plans commission also is recommending that this be changed to conform to a modified plan.

Former Post-Crescent Employee Appointed Editor at Marquette

Neenah — George Berdes, Milwaukee, has been named university editor at Marquette university. Berdes, a former reporter in the Twin Cities office of the Post-Crescent, will edit the nine academic bulletins issued by the 10 schools and colleges of the university. He is a 1953 graduate of Marquette's college of journalism and is completing work for his master degree.

Rubbish Collection

Neenah — Non-combustible rubbish will be collected Wednesday in the First, Second, Fourth, Sixth, Seventh and Ninth wards.

Proposed Layout of Streets in the area east of Congress street road and south of E. Cecil street in the Kessler property will be the subject of a hearing at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday by the city council. The changes proposed are shown above. The present street plan map calls for extending Maple, Higgins, Campbell, Oak, Kalfahs, Sande and Reed streets through as north-south streets and having only Peckham and Langley streets as east-west streets rather than terminating some of the north-south streets and adding two more east-west streets.

Vandals Cause Damage to Rec Building

Cigaret Machine,
Cash Register
Smashed in Breakin

Neenah — Several hundreds of dollars of damage was done by vandals who broke into the Neenah recreation building on S. Park avenue sometime Saturday night. The damage was discovered about 6 a.m. Sunday by the janitor, Jerome Bonnett.

Two separate entries were made into the building and the damage included smashing a cash register, smashing a cigarette machine and breaking a bottle of lime syrup taken from the soda fountain.

Police said one entry was made through the window near the soda fountain. Money from the cigarette machine was scattered on the floor or still in the machine with nothing apparently taken.

Entry also was made through the kitchen door on the south side of the building by breaking the glass. The main office glass door also was broken but nothing was disturbed there.

The telephone was taken off the hook but was not damaged.

Twin City Deaths

Mrs. Millie Jackson

Neenah — Mrs. Millie Jackson, 66, formerly of 406 Adams street, died at 5 a.m. Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Buxton at Niles, Mich., after being in poor health for years. She was born May 18, 1892, in Menasha and lived in Menasha most of her life. She had lived with her daughter at Niles since November.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Laemmrich Funeral home with the Rev. John C. Hanchett, pastor of the First Congregational church, in charge. Burial will be in Oak Hill cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after 3 p.m. Tuesday.

Survivors are the daughter; a sister, Mrs. Otto Beaton of Menasha, and a grandchild.

Robert Nudelbacher

Robert Nudelbacher, 22, 308 Pearl avenue, Oshkosh, a native of Menasha, died Sunday at Great Lakes, Ill., after an illness of several months. He was born Sept. 19, 1936, in Menasha and attended grade and high school there.

Funeral arrangements are being made at Fiss and Bills Funeral home, Oshkosh.

Survivors include his father, Edward, Menasha; his mother, Mrs. Phyllis Nudelbacher, Oshkosh; a grandmother, Mrs. Peter Jones, Appleton; two brothers, Richard, Menasha, and Thomas, Oshkosh; one sister, Mrs. John Lea, Appleton.

K-C Acquires Envelope Firm in Stock Exchange

Costs Exceeds $14 Million, Based on Current Market Value of 225,000 Shares

Neenah — Acquisition of the American Envelope company of West Carrollton, Ohio, by Kimberly-Clark corporation was announced today in an exchange involving 225,000 shares of Kimberly-Clark common stock.

On the basis of the present market value of outstanding Kimberly-Clark shares, the purchase price is in excess of $14 million.

The proposed purchase had been filed with the federal securities and exchange commission in December.

The Ohio firm is a manufacturer of envelopes, fine stationery and other papers with plants at West Carrollton and Chicago. Annual sales of the envelope firm for the last three years have exceeded $12 million with net earnings of approximately $1 million.

Although Kimberly-Clark has included fine writing paper in its production, it previously had no envelope production. Previously announced plans were to continue operation of American Envelope by its present management as a subsidiary of Kimberly-Clark.

Pleads Innocent of Drunk Driving

Menasha — Richard LaFond, 28, 840 State street, pleaded innocent of drunken driving when arraigned before Police Justice Arthur J. Ales this morning. Trial was set for 1:30 p.m. on March 12.

LaFond was arrested on Chute street at 11:58 p.m. Saturday.

Fined $5, Costs

Neenah — Robin Johnson, 29, 118 Olive street, was fined $5 and costs by Police Justice E. P. Arpin Saturday after he pleaded guilty of being drunk. He was arrested at 10:30 p.m. Friday.

Order Examination For Oshkosh Man in Fatal Auto Collision

Oshkosh — Preliminary examination was set for Friday, March 13 by Municipal Judge S. J. Luchsinger this morning for Richard LeBeck, 25, of 411 Sterling avenue, Oshkosh, on a charge of negligent driving and causing an accident in which two Oshkosh men were killed on Nov. 2.

A coroner's jury Friday afternoon found LeBeck apparently negligent in handling his vehicle which collided with a car driven by Carl Penzenstader, Oshkosh, at Knapp and S. Park streets. Penzenstader and a passenger, Frank Kinderman, Oshkosh, later died of injuries received in the accident. LeBeck was released on his own recognizance.

Rubbish Collection

Smile Is Greatest Medicine, Speaker Tells Graduates

Neenah — "The greatest medicine on earth when you are sick is to see someone smile," John E. TePoorten told the 12 graduating practical nurses and guests at the 17th graduation exercises of Neenah-Menasha Vocational and Adult school of Practical Nursing Sunday afternoon.

"You are entering into one of the most noble professions in the world, you are giving of yourself," the Madison coordinator of Wisconsin Schools of Vocational and Adult Education said.

TePoorten compared a symphony orchestra to what he called "the symphony of living." He recalled hearing a concert where the cymbalist played only twice, "yet if he had failed to play his small part, the entire symphony would have been spoiled." Many people play parts in the symphony of living and they must be ready to play their part when the time comes, he said.

He described the symphony of nursing as something that moves with joyous unity and responsibility. The question of "what do I want out of life?" is asked over and over again, he said, explaining sometimes the answers are money, health or fame. "In reality we need a combination of things." He said men and women must learn "how to take reverses" as well as successes.

One of the things that has made this nation great is a free peoples responsibility to each other, he said. "We must truly live the maxim, 'I am my brother's keeper,'" he said.

H. L. Sherman, director of Menasha Vocational and Adult school, welcomed the class and presented the diplomas. Pins were given to the graduates by Miss Ruth J. Hopper and Miss Florence M. Rathmann, teacher-coordinator of the nursing school. Miss Jean Martin gave the message from the class.

Graduates were Susan J. Breaker, Butte des Morts; Josephine E. Collins, Amberg; Karen LaViolette, Sturgeon Bay; Jean Martin and Lorraine Rieben, Oshkosh; Margorie Peterson and Mary Zick, Neenah; Susan Quella, Appleton; Constance Rosner, Berlin; Margaret TerHorst, Winnebago; Joan Wege, Fremont; and Ida J. Rothman, Menominee, Mich.

Increased Use Of Water Cited By Speaker

Tells ASC Group Of Greater Demands In Farms, Industry

Oshkosh — We must become more water conscious, Raymond Penn, University of Wisconsin agricultural economist, pointed out at a meeting Thursday night of farmers participating in the soil conservation program. He said Wisconsin was fortunate to have a lot of water but he pointed to a greater use of water in agriculture for increased yields, more water being used by new industries, more water being used per person and an increase in population.

The time is coming when we had better prepare ourselves to be more water conscious, Penn declared. He supported this contention by citing both Green Bay and Fond du Lac which recently have changed their sources of water supply.

Water Regulation Legislation is important for regulation of water regardless if used by agriculture or industry for the protection of everyone concerned.

The farmers present voted to have annual meetings at which reports would be presented on progress made in the county in soil and water conservation and to recognize farmers doing an outstanding job in that field. George Framberger, county soil conservationist, showed slides taken before and after some of the conservation projects.

Meeting with the group were representatives of League of Women Voters chapters at Oshkosh and Neenah-Menasha who were interested in the subject of water rights.

Physicians to Meet At Legion Clubhouse

Oshkosh — Winnebago County Medical society members will hear a discussion by Dr. Nathan J. Smith and Dr. David Smith, both of the department of pediatrics at University hospitals in Madison, here.

Uncle Ray Constellation Orion Seen Best During Winter Months

BY RAMON COFFMAN

Winter is the best season for people in the northern half of the globe to view the brilliant and beautiful group of stars known as Orion. This constellation is to be seen in the evening sky at this time of the year.

The name "Orion" is pronounced like "O'Ryan," but it has nothing to do with old Ireland. It came to us from myths of ancient Greeks. A hunter named Orion (according to the myth-makers) was shot with an arrow by the goddess Artemis. It was a mistake, and Artemis was filled with sorrow. She asked Zeus, the chief of the Greek gods, to place Orion in the sky, where he could enjoy a high place for all time.

A story of that sort was enough to satisfy many (if not all) ancient folk. Today we large that it could hold many pass it by, and give serious objects the size of our sun, study to the facts.

There are several bright stars in the constellation of Orion. Three stars in a row make up the "belt" of the hunter. Above the belt is a great deal of traveling. This very bright star which marks beautiful star is more than his right shoulder. It is known three quadrillion miles from as Betelgeuse, pronounced the earth. BET-ul-juz or BE-tul-jooze. winner.
8:30—Fond du Lac vs. Game 2 winner.

Seymour opens state high school basketball tournament competition tonight with its season's "rubber" game against West DePere.

The game will be the nightcap of an opening night Green Bay West regional tournament "elimination" double-header in the Franklin Junior High school gym. The opening game pairs DePere and Green Bay East.

Seymour and West DePere split their two Northeastern Wisconsin conference engagements this season. The Indians took the opener, 40-41, while the Phantoms won the return match, 64-55.

Finishes Fifth
Seymour, which finished fifth in the NEW, has an overall record of 10-8. West DePere finished in a second-place tie with a 10-4 league mark.

Green Bay East compiled a 9-9 overall record and wound up tied for fourth in the Fox River Valley conference. DePere was a second-division NEW club with a 5-9 mark.

Preble, NEW champ, drew a first-round bye, as did Green Bay West. The Wildcats, co-holders of fourth in the FRVC, ran up a 9-9 regular-season record.

The Green Bay sub-regional champion will face the titlist of the Oconto sub-regional Saturday night at Oconto. In the Oconto tourney, Coleman faces Marinette and Oconto Falls plays Oconto in opening games Thursday night.

Northwestern Trims Foxes Five, 62-48

The Northwestern preps of Watertown defeated Fox Valley Lutheran, 62-48, here Saturday night in the losers' season finale.

Fox Lutheran took a brief 2-0 lead but then the winners moved to a 17-6 first quarter advantage and led, 32-20, at the half. The Foxes closed the gap to 39-35 late in the third period but then the victors pulled away.

Lynn Schroeder hit 26 points to lead the victors. Sophomore Darrell Mindell, a good rebounder, tallied 15 points for the Foxes. The Foxes, who had beaten Northwestern earlier were playing their second straight game without eight varsitymen who had been suspended from the club for smoking.

The loss ended the Fox Lutheran season at 10-10.

Frank Lane Calls for United AL Effort Against Yankees

Asks That Best Hurlers be Used In Yank Games

BY JOE REICHLER

St. Petersburg, Fla. — Frank Lane, blunt-spoken general manager of the Cleveland Indians, has made a frank exhortation to the other American league clubs to join him in all-out warfare against the New York Yankees.

"We should all have one common objective," declared the fiery Lane. "That is to do everything in our power — on the field, of course — to prevent the Yankees from winning again."

"I feel we can do it," he added, "if we get together and make up our minds to throw only the best pitchers against the Yankees. If we all concentrate on that I'm willing to bet this season will be remembered as the year the Yankees did not win the pennant."

'Destroy Illusion'
"The trouble with some of the other clubs is that they have draped a cloak of invincibility over the Yankees. We must destroy this illusion. The Yankees are good but they are not an outstanding club by any means. They are benefiting from a certain momentum, a carry-over from previous winning clubs."

Lane's latest blast at the Yankees came in the nature of a parting shot. A St. Petersburg, Fla., resident, he left immediately for the Indians' training camp at Tucson, Ariz.

"The Yankees wouldn't have won last year if Bob Turley and Ryne Duren hadn't come through," Lane said. "And Duren was a distinct surprise. They certainly didn't win because of their hitting."

"They don't figure to be any better this year. When a Yankee team goes into spring training with three players 40 years old and over, that's an indication they are hurting," Lane did not say so out-

Saturday's Results:
Monmouth 68, Lawrence 57.

Coe 63, St. Olaf 59.
Cornell 56, Carlisle 75.

The Lawrence college basketball team — which dropped a number of games by narrow margins during a disappointing 1958-9 season — saved just about its most heartbreaking setback for its final start.

In finishing their season with a 2-20 mark Saturday night at Monmouth college, the Vikings were beaten, 68-67, on a 25-foot fielder by the Scots' Gary Larson which was in the air when the game-ending horn sounded.

Lead Most of Way
Lawrence, which led from midway through the first half until the final second of play, thus finished in a tie for eighth place with Ripon in final Midwest conference standings. It marks the first time in four seasons that the Vikings have not finished a solo last.

The Vikings took the lead at 18-15 just before the 10:00 mark in the first half and were on top 38-32 at the half.

Then, the hosts put on a get-the-ball-at-any-cost press and chopped the Viking lead to 67-66. Lawrence's Rick Ramsey was fouled with nine seconds left but he missed the first free throw of a 1-and-1. Monmouth took the rebound and called time out. Then came Larson's game-winning.

The Vikings were handicapped against the Monmouth press by the loss of guard Jim Schulze, with a twisted knee, with about 8:17 left in the first half. He was out for the Little Chute — Last-second heroics enabled Menasha St. Mary to come from behind and cop a 41-37 overtime thriller from St. Mary Springs of Fond du Lac for the Catholic regional championship here Sunday afternoon.

Zephyrs a 35-all tie for regulation time.

In the overtime, Batley, Pete Vander Hyden and Jerrold Laemmrich counted field goals for the winners while Springs was limited to a pair of free throws by Mike Keenan.

Green Bay — Bidding boisterous adieu to their first Mid-America Hockey league season, the Bobcats cracked three records (for attendance and roughhouse) in sweeping a weekend series from the Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Indians at the arena.

Out to settle a score, the rough and ready home forces blasted the Indians, 12-1, Saturday night in a backdrop of flaring tempers and flailing fists, then followed with a 6-3 triumph in a more orderly Sunday afternoon match punctuated by another rousing brawl.

Running their winning streak to eight in a row with the double victory, the Bobcats' padded their Mid-America record to 16-7-1 and lifted themselves to within three points of the champion Marquette Sentinels in the final standings.

Weekend Record
Their two performances attracted a total of 8,892 patrons, a weekend record, including 4,890 Saturday night and 4,002 for a Sunday afternoon high. In all, the Bobcats now have played to more than 69,000 fans during their 24 home appearances, including 25,202 in the last six games for a 4,200 average.

The other record came in Saturday night's free-swinging game when the bristling combatants drew a combined total of 81 minutes in penalties. The Bobcats also won this competition — by a two-to-one margin. Bent upon evening the score for their treatment in the Soo last weekend, they were assessed 54 minutes, the Indians 27. The old "record," 66 minutes, was set against the Canadian Soo Esquires here Jan. 10.

Storm to Lead
Storming to a 5-0 lead before permitting their guests to score, the Bobcats annexed the Saturday night decision with a minimum of strain, wrapping it up with a 6-goal explosion in the third period. Although the home talent before either team notched a point, Laemmrich tipped in the first bucket for St. Mary's at 3:34. Vanderhyden followed it with a jump, Batley scored from the corner and Laemmrich connected from the side to give the Zephyrs a 8-0 lead.

Paul Kremer hit a pair of free throws and Gary Steinko scored on a layup to make the count 8-4 as the first period ended.

17-16 At Halftime
Springs tied it at 8-8 as Bill Nuss and Steinko scored. The Ledgers went out in front for the first time with a 2-point lead by Mike Scott. St. Mary roared back with Batley hitting two and Dean Schreiner one to give the Menashans a 14-10 advantage.

Nuss sliced it to two points with a tip and Ed Lotzer made

'Albie' Booth, Yale Great, Dies at 51

'The Mighty Atom' Starred in Football, Baseball and Basketball

New York — The nation's sports fans today mourned Albert "Albie" Booth—the man who emulated fiction writers' hero-type climaxes with his athletic feats at Yale.

The former football star, who was 51, died of a heart attack early Sunday morning, after attending a Broadway play with his wife.

Booth was the second Yale football great to pass away within two weeks. Bruce Caldwell, who preceded Booth at the New Haven, Conn. school, died Feb. 15 after a long illness. He was 53.

Booth was still a well-known figure to current football fans. He was one of the country's top officials for the past decade and officiated at classics such as the Army-Navy game.

Booth managed an ice cream company in New Haven at the time of his death and is survived by his wife, Marion, and two daughters.

Booth ruled, with an almost incredible succession of feats, the athletic scene at Yale from 1929-31, and was lovingly nicknamed "Little Boy Blue," "The Mighty Atom," and "The Blue Bantam." He played football, basketball and baseball, winning eight varsity letters and enshrining him-

Finland Takes Big Lead in Skating, Skiing

Squaw Valley, Calif. — Finland's small but potent team of skating, ski jumping and cross-country stars was favored today to build its already heavy domination in North American championships testing the 1960 winter Olympics site.

Juhani Jarvinen won a world record 1,500 meter skating victory Sunday in 2 minutes, 6.3 seconds and quickly followed that with a second place in the 10,000 meter grind and a combined skating time.

Kalevin Karkinen triumphed in the 80-meter special ski jumping with crowd-awing grace in the Finnish-developed flying-V jumping style. His longest leap was 290.3 feet.

Gene Kotlarek, 18-year-old Duluth, Minn., college freshman and called by the Finns the first American to master their jumping style, finished a close second to Karkinen in the 80-meter jumps.

Norway's Knut Johannesen won his second skating crown with a 16:42.7 time in the 10,000 meters, the fastest ever in America for the event.

Oshkosh 9	5	Green Bay 5	6
Sheb. North 7	7	Sheb. S. 6	6
APPLETON 6	8	Green Bay W. 6	8

Last Saturday's Results:
North 57, East 33.

Sheboygan North finished third in the Fox River Valley conference Saturday night by winning its league finale, 57-53, at Green Bay East.

Randy Prange's 18 points led the winners, while East's Bill Lamberg was high for both teams with 21.

East finishes in a probably unprecedented 5-way tie for fourth place with Appleton, Fond du Lac, Sheboygan Central and Green Bay West.

Manitowoc, which won the clear title Friday night, is the only other team other than the 1956-7 Terrors to reign with as many as four FRVC defeats.

Teteak was one of three Wisconsin athletes to be selected by the Green Bay Packers in this year's draft. Others selected were halfbacks Dave Smith of Greendale, and Ripon college; and Bill Butler from Berlin, and the University of Chattanooga.

'Albie' Booth

self as the greatest of Yale's athletes.

A hometown boy, Booth never weighed more than 145 pounds during his playing days. But his deceptiveness and speed were ample compensations. On the basketball court, he was a sharpshooter. He was a fine college baseball hitter, playing semipro ball after graduation.

His football career began in a blaze of glory as a sophomore and ended the same way three years later. A field goal late in his final game, against Harvard, gave Hale a 3-0 victory.

As a sophomore he leaped overnight into national fame by tearing apart a favored army team. In little more than a period he scored 21 points after the Cadets, with the great Chris Cagle in ascendancy, had taken a 13-0 lead. Hale won, 21-13. The payoff play was an 80-yard return of a punt for touchdown.

As he lay over the goal line getting his breath, big John Murrell, Army fullback, came panting up to him. Almost twice Booth's size, he reached down and slapped the mite's shoulders.

"Albie," he said, "you're the toughest guy to tackle I ever saw on a football field."

Although he twice captained Yale football and basketball teams, he never made an All-America eleven. Always some injury or illness forced him to the sidelines just long enough to keep him from reaching the All America goal.

Madison — (U) — Wisconsin takes on Michigan State, the Big Ten basketball champion, at East Lansing tonight in an attempt to avoid matching its poorest season.

Wisconsin lost to Northwestern, 86-82, Saturday night in a rough game for its eleventh defeat in 12 league starts. The Badgers, who close the campaign next Saturday night at Indiana, are already doomed to undisputed possession of the conference cellar for the second straight year. They have an overall record of 3-17, compared with a finish of 4-17 in 1945-46.

Trailing By 11 Wisconsin missed some easy shots and trailed Northwestern, 47-36, at the half but came back to outscore the Wildcats, 46-39. Jim Biggs led the Badger scoring with 30 points. Joe Ruklick led the Wildcats with 29.

The last 10 minutes were marked by several displays of temper. Wisconsin coach Bud Foster said of the incidents, which caused no ejections, "It was too bad. It could have been a good game and we had a chance to win it."

On two occasions, players from both benches attempted to rush out on the floor and join in the fracas but were restrained by coaches and officials.

Wittenberg 7th In State Meet

Joe Vroshek Wins Individual Title At Madison

Madison — Joe Vroshek won a championship for Wittenberg High school at the state wrestling meet here Saturday as the high school compiled 19 points for a seventh place berth.

Milwaukee King took the state crown with 56 points, followed by Coleman with 41, and Milwaukee Pulaski, with 37.

Vroshek won a decision from Dick Mankowski at 165 pounds for the state crown. Dale Miller, the other Wittenberg finalist, came as close as possible to a crown when he lost to Don Weber, Sevastopol, at 145 pounds on a referee's decision after wrestling on even terms.

Brilliant Has 3 Points

Wittenberg entered five boys in the state meet. Brilliant with four boys in the meet, compiled three points over the 2-day tourney.

Janesville and Tomah tied for fourth with 24 apiece and Milwaukee South, the defending champion, was sixth with 22.

The new champions and their weight classes:

Budweisers Bowl Tonight In ABC Meet

St. Louis — (U) — The national match-game champion Budweisers of St. Louis will take to the lanes in the American Bowling Congress tournament tonight in an effort to overtake the pace-setting Pfeiffer beer team of Detroit.

The world-famous Budweisers, who have an average over 1,100, are headed by the great Don Carter. The shufflin' man is the first to bowl three consecutive 1,900 series in ABC competition, hitting 1,908 in 1951, 1,932 in 1952 and 1,920 in 1953.

Highlighting Sunday's action were a few changes in the minor events. "Toe" David and Tim Moran combined for 1,313 in doubles and a second place tie, three pins shy of the leading tandem of Glenn and Bob Gersh of Chicago.

In the team events, the Hockstadter junior classic of Chicago rolled 2,965 to pace the open division.

Howie Johnson Wins Tourney

Makes Up 5 Shots In Last 36 Holes At Baton Rouge

Baton Rouge, La. — (U) — Husky Howie Johnson's philosophy of taking golf one hole at a time paid off in the $15,000 Baton Rouge Open tournament.

He was five strokes off the pace Sunday when he began the tough 36-hole grind, made necessary when rain delayed the start of the tournament one day.

After 18 holes, Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla., who shot a 68, still held a 4-stroke edge on the 33-year-old San Marcos, Calif., professional, who marked up a 2-under-par 70.

Adds 2nd 70

But when the top man ran into trouble, Johnson calmly added his second 70 for 283, and a one-stroke victory over Hebert, who soared to 75.

The 283 total was the highest winning score in the 8-year history of the tournament.

5 are Still Holdouts

Bradenton, Fla. — (U) — Mel Roach of the Milwaukee Braves is going to get a new bicycle.

The team ordered the vehicle for the 25-year-old athlete who is worried over missing a chance as second baseman because of a troublesome left knee.

"I don't feel any pain when I swing," Roach said Sunday. "Why don't they send me back to Milwaukee. Send me to the man who operated on me. (Dr. Bruce Brewer, club physician) He knows more about my knee than anyone."

Roach said he was dissatisfied with the diagnosis of a Florida specialist who told him to forget about swinging a bat until opening day.

Meanwhile, Roach will pedal the bicycle around to build up the knee and his leg muscles.

Manager Fred Haney took his squad to the beach Sunday and ended two days of inactivity.

Winston Brown, a right-handed pitcher up from Austin of the Texas league, stole the show with a bundle of fast curve balls, though he had some trouble maintaining complete control.

John McHale, general manager, reported he has not made any progress in signing the team's five remaining holdouts. They are Joe Adcock, Del Rice, Casey Wise, Gene Conley and Don McMahon.

Big 10 in Dogfight For Second Place

Spartans Jolt Indiana, 86-82, To Clinch Solo Championship

BY GEORGE LAZARUS
Associated Press Staff Writer

The main event, Michigan State's Big Ten title clinching victory, was basketball history today but a half-dozen other teams plunged into the battle for the conference runner-up spot.

The powerful Spartans, now ranked No. 8 in the national AP poll, defeated defending champion Indiana, 86-82, Saturday at Bloomington, Ind., a previous Spartan graveyard.

The victory, the Spartans' initial success after losing eight straight games at Bloomington, boosted MSU to a 10-2 conference mark.

Another reward for Coach "Fordy" Anderson's five was a trip to the NCAA Eastern Regionals at Evanston, Ill., March 13-14.

In the path of the Spartan steamroller, the conference race settled down to a dogfight for second place after Saturday's results.

Assumes Advantage

Illinois assumed an early advantage for second honors to Michigan State by using Capt. Roger Taylor's clutch basket with 17 seconds left for a hard-earned 72-70 victory over Iowa at Iowa City. The Illini, now entrenched in second spot, can claim that position by winning their last two games. A split assures them of a tie.

In other games, Northwestern slipped past cellar-dwelling Wisconsin, 86-82, at Madison; Ohio State smothered Michigan, 106-83, at Columbus; and Purdue dumped Minnesota, 67-55, at Lafayette.

Michigan State's verdict at Bloomington Saturday not only caught the fancy of a regional television audience but evoked disapproval of the officiating from Hoosier Coach Branch McCracken.

McCracken pointed out that

MSU committed only one foul in the first 18 minutes of the second half. He said: "I was not happy with the refereeing. You just can't win a ball game under those conditions."

Johnny Green and Bob Anderegg each had 20 points for MSU.

Three games will be played tonight with Illinois at Michigan, Ohio State visiting Minnesota and Michigan State entertaining Wisconsin.

Bobcats Run Win Streak to Eight Straight were never in serious jeopardy, Sunday's session was of a different character. The Indians were out front, 1-0, at the close of the first period, ended after 17:32 when Soo goalie Ken Steve was hit in the head by a Bobcat rebound shot and was forced to exit for repairs. The flying puck gashed his forehead, requiring stitches.

Take Charge

The Bobcats took charge upon returning to the ice, rifling home six goals during that 23-minute second period to leave the unhappy Indians behind.

That old smoothie, Johnny Mayasich, had another in a succession of big weekends. The former Olympic ace emerged with a collection of eight points, six of them in Saturday night's triumph when he and angular Dick Dier engineered hat tricks to show the way.

Crew Cut Ken Ruohonen, one of the principals in Saturday night's slugfests, grabbed off Sunday honors with a goal and two assists.

Ruohonen and the Indians' Pete Bush touched off the fireworks late in the first period of the series opener. No sooner had they begun trading punches in front of the scoring table when Dier and Indian Dave Swick were skirmishing at center ice.

Referee Mark Olson and Linesman Bob Van Adestine finally separated Ruohonen and Bush, assessing each five minutes in the penalty box, and the Bobcats themselves ultimately succeeded in pulling Dier and Swick apart.

Dean Schreiner (40), of Menasha St. Mary, swings the ball around trying to elude the clutches of Fond du Lac Springs' Gary Steinke (11) during Sunday's regional tourney action in the Little Chute gym. Other players include Menasha's Pete Vanderhyden (30) and Fond du Lac's Paul Kremer (21) and Jim Flesch (25). The Zephyrs won, 41-37, in overtime.

Tops in Class A Avalon Takes Lead in Women's Pin Tourney

Menasha — Two Twin City teams, Avalon of Menasha and Compacts of Neenah, took over first place in classes A and C, respectively, in the Central Fox Valley Women's Bowling association tournament at the Menasha Recreation alleys over the weekend.

Avalon collected a 2,520 series, including 78 pins handicapped per game, to take a 30-pin lead over Prosser's of Neenah. Geenen's Food Mart of Appleton moved into third place with 2,477 (101) and Courtney-Plummer of Neenah took over fourth with 2,470 (61).

Compacts recorded a 2,478 (144) total for its class C lead. There also are new occupants in second and third place.

Menasha Recreation No. 3 hit 2,431 (165) for second and Twin City Bottling, another Menasha quintet, moved into third with 2,417 (180).

In the only class B change, Mid-Town alleys of Menasha collected a 2,461 (145) total to roll into third place. Gib's Skelly Oil of Hollandtown still leads with 2,607 (134) and boasts the top total of all the three leaders.

2. Men Rec No. 3, Men	2,431	(165)
3. Twin City Bott, Men	2,417	(180)
4. Geenen's, Hollandtown	2,417	(180)
5. Men Rec. No. 2, Men	2,391	(157)

Each drew two minutes for the offense.

This was not the end of it. Sunday's match, while tame by comparison, also produced a slugfest between Bocchini and Bush which was continued after they were banished to the "sin bin" for five minutes. And just as officer Jules (Biff) Coppens had finished separating the pair in the box, an unidentified spectator re-ignited the proceedings by planting a punch on Push's whiskers over Coppens' shoulder.

Zephyrs Win Regional Title In Overtime

good on a free throw to give the Zephyrs a 15-12 margin. Scott hit a pair of tosses, Norm Brown connected on a jump for Menasha and Steinke counted for Springs to make the halftime score 17-16.

It was nip-and-tuck in the third period with the Zephyrs hitting seven while Springs had six. Batley, the game's high scorer with 16 points, had two of the three St. Mary baskets in the period.

The quarter ended at 24-22. Led by Nuss, Springs fought back in the fourth stanza and finally tied the count at 29-all with 4:43 left.

Kremer hit a pair of charity tosses for Springs and Nuss followed with a hook to give the Ledgers a 33-29 lead, their biggest margin of the game.

Batley Ties It

Jim Rueckl hit a corner shot to make it 33-31 and Batley tied it with a short 1-hander at 1:31. Kremer got a chance to put Springs in front with a free throw shot and he made one of two. Seconds later, Nuss was fouled while shooting. The tall center made the first toss to make the score 35-33 but failed to connect on the clincher.

The Zephyrs got the ball with 10 seconds left, and Batley drove the length of the court before letting fly with his last-ditch desperation shot which swished through cleanly.

Keenan's two free throws gave Springs a brief lead in the extra period but it was short-lived as Batley hit a long one, Vander Hyden dropped one on a 10-foot pump and Laemmrich clinched it with a layup in the closing seconds.

Springs closed out the season with a 19-4 record, three of the losses coming at the hands of the Zephyrs.

Batley's eight field goals made him the top scorer for the winners. Nuss led Springs with seven buckets and a pair of free throws for 16. Norm Brown was the leading rebounder—picking off 16 for the Zephyrs.

St. John had little trouble with St. Gregory and Coach Bill Fitzpatrick shuffled his lineup continually giving all players a chance to see action.

The Chuters led, 19-5, at the end of the first period and 37-20 at halftime.

Tom Geerts led the Dutchmen with 17 points, Ady Ebben had 16 and Mike Bongers, 12. For St. Gregory, Ken Kasper was high with 11.

rest of the game. And, the other starting guard — "Chuck" Knocke — fouled out with about 3:50 left in the game.

Three of the fouls called on Knocke, and about half of Lawrence's 23 fouls, were offensive charging calls—some of which were highly questionable.

According to Lawrence Coach Don Boya, Monmouth Mentor Chuck Larson apologized to Boya after the game for the officiating. The hosts were very rough, hacking Schulze and Knocke repeatedly without violations being called.

Knocke finished with 22 points, second high in the Lawrence column to Jim Rasmussen's 25. "Ras" made nine of 14 shots, Knocke hit on seven of 17.

Clair McRoberts tallied 18 and Ken Mueller 16 to pace the winners.

Lawrence outshot Monmouth 46 per cent to 29.7 per cent. The Vikings made 21 of 45 shots, the Scots hit on just 24 of 81. Lawrence connected on 25 of 34 free throws, for 74 per cent. Monmouth made 20 of 30, for 67 per cent.

Lawrence outrebounced its host, 39-35. Bob Blust had 11 rebounds and Willie Weber nine for the losers.

The loss was Lawrence's forty-second straight road setback over four seasons.

Platteville captured its second straight undisputed basketball championship of the Wisconsin State College conference Saturday night by edging past Oshkosh, 76-73.

The decision gave Platteville an 11-11 conference record and an overall mark of 17-3. The Pioneers will play the winner of Monday night's Milton-Carroll scrap for the right to represent District 14 in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics tournament at Kansas City.

Absent Ownership Threatens City

BY SYLVIA PORTER

Louisville, Ky.—If you lived and worked for a manufacturing firm in Louisville today, the odds are better than six to one that you'd be an employee of a plant owned by outsiders — controlled by interest far removed from your hometown.

More than 60 per cent of the manufacturing jobs in this proud, 187-year-old Kentucky city are in absentee-owned corporations. Decisions of crucial importance to the workers, their families, the entire community are not made by Louisville residents; often they're made by tycoons, efficiency experts or financiers who only rarely visit the city.

If you lived and worked for a big retail store in Louisville, the odds are a towering eight or nine to one that you'd be working for a branch, a coast-to-coast chain.

Of Louisville's seven biggest stores only one is home-owned and that one is fifth in size. The store manager may appear in charge, but it's most improbable that the key policies are set by him. Rather, the likelihood is they're fixed at headquarters elsewhere.

No Longer Threat
In Louisville, absentee ownership of industrial plants, stores, major service organizations is no longer a threat arising from the great merger trend of this decade.

Here, the trend — which first reported from Rochester, N. Y., a month ago — has become a startling reality. And the implications go far beyond the obvious — the inclination of imported managers to disregard local charities, to give only minimum support to city groups.

In Louisville, absentee control is striking at the very industrial and financial heart of the city itself. Here is a tale which cities the nation over will ignore at their own peril. The list of Louisville companies sold to or absorbed by nationwide concerns since World War II covers dozens upon dozens of once-famous names. And I'm not including new factories which American corporations have established here — such as General Electric's creation on Louisville's outskirts of Appliance park, the world's largest home appliance factory. Nor am I touching on the hundreds of small distilleries which have been gobbled up by the liquor giants. Omitting these, consider that just in the past 10 years:

Mengel furniture has become Kroehler and Mengel has become Container Corporation of America . . . Girdler Tube Turns has become National Cylinder Gas . . . B. F. Avery has become Minneapolis-Moline . . . Ballyard Mills has become Pillsbury and C. T. Dearing Printing has become Fawcett Publications . . . Cochran Foil has become Anaconda company and Enro Shirt has become Wilson brothers . . . And so it goes.

Some Benefits
Of course, in many instances, the workers and city have benefited. Some payrolls have been sharply increased. New talent has come into town. And as Archie P. Cochran, head of Cochran Foil until its merger with Anaconda two months ago, put it to me, "We had reached a size where we had to compete for national markets, but we didn't have the cash, research or marketing facilities to do so properly. Merger will bring us these."

But in other instances, payrolls have dwindled, disappeared. And hidden beneath the surface are threats which are actively worrying leaders of Louisville. Here are exact quotes from Louisville citizens whose names I am deliberately withholding:

"We go into a plant, ask for contributions to the Community chest or Louisville fund and what we get is an indifferent nod. The managers aren't part of Louisville. They feel they're camping out and they don't care about the city's future . . ."

"Some executives who seem to be big shots can't spend $15 of the company's money on their own initiative. They duck out by saying, 'We have to check the home office.' The home office doesn't answer or when it does, the answer is 'no,' or a piddling contribution. . . ."

"The frustration is maddening. The city isn't controlled by us. It's controlled elsewhere. It's infuriating to ask about a personnel policy or a product and get the answer, 'We haven't heard from New York yet.'"

But these, I repeat, are just some of the obvious disadvantages of absentee ownership — a ship of a city. Much more vital is what this is doing to the Louisville economy itself. This tale I'll report tomorrow.

Story Hours Will Feature Turtles
"Theodore Turtle" by Ellen MacGregor and "The Cunning Turtle" by Kurt Wiese will be presented at the Appleton public library's pre-school story hour at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday by Miss Pat Ewen, youth librarian.

Miss Ewen has also scheduled two color movies, "Medieval Knights" and "The American Flag" for the 2 p.m. Saturday story hour.

Prepared to Fight Foes of Indonesians
BY GENE KRAMER
Jakarta — Lt. Gen. Abdul Harris Nasution, powerful Indonesian army chief, says "if the communist party or any other group turns against the Indonesian state, I'll take steps against them."

Commenting on reports that he is anti-communist and pro-western, Nasution said in a rare interview: "I am not pro or anti-west, not pro or anti-east. I hope for bonds not only with the west but with the east. I am not pro anything but my country."

The 40-year-old 3-star general said it is not his duty to side for or against any legal political party. He insisted he would not hesitate to act against Indonesia's powerful communists if they started trouble.

The Indonesian army crushed a red revolt in 1948 before President Sukarno became friendly with the Russians and Peiping. In the past year Nasution has used his sweeping martial law powers to suppress communist mass rallies as well as demonstrations by some other groups.

Echoing recent statements by Prime Minister Djuanda, the handsome Dutch-trained general said a coup d'etat is not possible in Indonesia. "The president, prime minister and we of the army command have full understanding and cooperation," he declared.

Nasution said a November speech in which he advocated a bigger role in government for individual military men "was supported officially by the prime minister and President Sukarno."

He said he favors appointment of military men to the next parliament, under the proposed new "guided democracy" plan of reserving half the 272 seats for non-party members. The communists and two other major parties want the non-party members elected.

Understanding Between President, House, Byrnes Says

HARD P. POWERS
Washington — The new understanding between the president and the house Republican leadership is a result of a change in the GOP leadership. There is no question but that President Eisenhower is interested in our thinking. Rep. John Byrnes, however, is not. As a result of this, changes have been made by the White House in recommendations being sent up to congress. "The White House does not conform necessarily to all recommendations and there is no thought that it should. Nor is it our view that we will exert a veto power over what the executive branch will send to congress. "There is a broad give and take at the weekly White House meetings and I believe the results have been helpful."

Charges Dismissed

Charges against Mrs. Marian Wheeler, 34, route 1, Appleton, for failure to yield the right-of-way were dismissed in municipal court today for insufficient evidence.

Changeover: Cities Army Reservists Getting New Assignments

The result will be fewer but more effective units, according to 14th army reserve headquarters. Efforts are being made to minimize the impact of the reorganization on the hundreds of communities which have long supported army reserve programs. Control Groups Officers and enlisted personnel who lose a ready reserve unit assignment will be transferred to reinforcement training units or control groups where they will be available as individual reinforcements, or transferred to standby reserve or retired reserve. The reorganization will not affect the requirement that selective service personnel must serve four years in the reserve program after completing two years of duty with the active army to fulfill their military obligation. Divisions will retain their present numerical designations, shoulder patch and colors. Units to be inactivated will be those whose functions no longer are required as a consequence of the new pentomic structure or those which are not needed for initial mobilization in the 14th army corps.

Want Ad Information Closing Time

Want ads accepted to 4:00 p.m. the day before day of publication. For Mondays—Before noon Saturdays.

Corrections or Cancellations
Want ad corrections or cancellations accepted to 8:30 a.m. for the same day publication.

IMPORTANT
Composition costs will be charged if an ordered ad is cancelled before publication. After an ad is ordered, it cannot be changed before one publication. When cancelling an ad, demand a "kill number." No claims recognized on ads cancelled without it. The number of days an ad is published determines the rate of such ads.

Adjustments
The Appleton Post-Crescent assumes no responsibility for verbal statements in conflict with its established rules, policies or rates. All claims for adjustments or refunds must be made within 7 days after expiration of ad. Errors, not the fault of the advertiser, which clearly lessen the value of the advertisement, should be corrected the first day, when one extra corrected insertion will be made without charge. The Post-Crescent assumes no responsibility for error after the first insertion.

Phone 3-4411 (In Neenah-Menasha Ph. 2-4434)

State Labor Complains of No Man's Land

Disturbed Over
Conflict in Courts
About Jurisdiction

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — The state labor board is speaking out with increasing impatience about what it calls a "no man's land" in labor relations resulting from federal government intervention in the labor-management field.

L. E. Gooding, chairman of the state board, has complained to the congress in a detailed memorandum that there is a danger of reversion to the "anarchy" which prevailed several decades ago in the labor-management relations.

The conflict between state and federal jurisdiction has left many employers and many labor organizations without a tribunal to adjudicate their differences, Gooding protested.

The "no man's land" results from the fact that there are conflicts in which the courts have said the federal government and not the states, have jurisdiction, but in which the National Labor Relations board has declined to assume jurisdiction because of lack of sufficient forces.

Gooding said the national labor board could agree to "cede" some cases in which it can't or won't act, but which are within its jurisdiction, to the state labor departments.

In a blunt letter filed with the U. S. senate labor committee, the veteran chief of the state labor board said the "right of employees to be represented by a labor union and to engage in collective bargaining will now be determined by economic force rather than by secret ballot; the right of employees to be free from discriminatory discharge because of union activities will be dissipated; and the rights of employers to be free illegal picketing and from secondary boycotts will go unprotected," as a result of the default of public labor regulatory agencies in many cases.

Not a Scene From Lapland but one from E. College avenue finds 1-year-old Lucia Meyers, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. I. Meyers, 922 E. College avenue, on a sled pulled by the family's pet Samoyed. The pet should feel at home in his harness, for the breed is used for pulling sleds and herding reindeer in Arctic regions.

Professor to Speak at Church Drive Program

Eric H. Olson, associate professor at Carthage college, Ill., will speak on "A New Day in Lutheran Education" at Trinity Lutheran church at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Prof. Olson's speech will highlight a campaign program to raise money for the new Carthage college in Kenosha and the Northwestern Theological seminary in Minneapolis.

Lay delegations from nine United Lutheran churches will attend the program. Churches participating are Emmanuel, Bailey's Harbor; Resurrection, Green Bay; St. Timothy, Menasha; St. Paul and St. Mark, Neenah; St. John, Oshkosh; Calvary, Two Rivers; Trinity and Our Saviour, Appleton.

The drive opened Feb. 5 and will close May 10, with churches from Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota and Montana participating.

Mrs. William Chandler, synod women's chairman, will present colored slides showing

Police Boost Enforcement As Accident Total Rises

In the belief that accidents result from traffic law violations much of the time, Appleton police are increasing enforcement in accident investigation.

The city's accident rate has been steadily worsening, with the January total this year more than 50 per cent ahead of January, 1958. Injuries nearly quadrupled. Arrests stemming from accidents tripled.

Traffic Sgt. John Gosch, viewing the steady and rapid accident increase, said his patrolmen have been told to crack down on traffic law violations.

"We have control of one of the three 'Es' of accident prevention and partial control of another—enforcement we control, education we can contribute to and engineering we do not control," Gosch said.

The city's accident total the Kenosha site for the proposed college.

About 400 lay delegates are expected.

this January hit 149, with 21 injured and 16 charged with traffic offenses, compared to last January's totals of 91 accidents, six injuries and five arrests.

Gosch said bad driving conditions probably had contributed to the accident increase, but enforcement would continue to be stepped up.

Teacher Might See Red Because of Pencil

Milwaukee — Mrs. Roy Klein was excited about her son's grades—for two weeks.

She had told him he would get a nickel for every 100 paper he brought home. For two weeks there were quite a few perfect papers.

But, one day a depressed James had to admit: "I can't get any more 100s. I lost the red pencil grandma gave me."

New Books:

Adventure Story of Nautilus Heads Weekly Library List

A true adventure story by Cmdr. William R. Anderson, skipper of the submarine Nautilus, heads the list of non-fiction books at the public library.

Anderson gives a detailed account of the submarine and her crew's trail blazing journey under the Arctic ice pack in "Nautilus 90 North."

Frank Elgar's "Van Gogh" is one of the many art books added to the library shelves. The book includes 369 reproductions of the artist's work, 65 of them in full color.

Magazine Criticism

"Agee on Film" by James Agee, author of the 1958 Pulitzer prize winning novel, "A Death in the Family," is a collection of criticism and interpretive comments on movies written for national magazines from 1941 to 1948.

Lawrence Clark Powell's "A Passion for Books" deals with the art of librarianship and the hobby of reading and collecting books.

American and Soviet schools are compared in Fred Hechinger's "The Big Red Schoolhouse."

"My Story" is Mary Astor's Hollywood autobiography of her rise to fame and her emotional troubles before she finally found herself at the age of 50.

Humorous Works

Two humorous works round out the list of non-fiction books. "On the Sunny Side of a One-Way Street" by William E. Wilson consists of the author's impressions as a youth in Evansville, Ind.

"The Humor of the American Cowboy" by Stan Hoig is a collection of tall tales, anecdotes, yarns, jokes and humorous incidents from the old West.

A 1959 Harper prize novel, "Elephant Hill," by Robin White, tops the selection of

As They Say at the Track: Morning Weather Lion: March in Like a Lamb

BY JAY REED
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Ever walk with a lion on a leash?

Well, don't look now but that's what's happening. If you think we're just handing out a fast lion take a look at tradition. It says that when March comes in like a lamb it will go out like a lion and you know what Sunday was like.

In some quarters it has been found difficult to understand the association of animals with March. There are many, for instance, who'll tell you with perfect honesty that the month is for the birds.

For the Sheep

This may or may not conform with your line of thinking, but no one can argue with the fact that the lamb had all the better of it Sunday. The highest reading was 39 — a heat wave when you consider what we've come to be used to this winter.

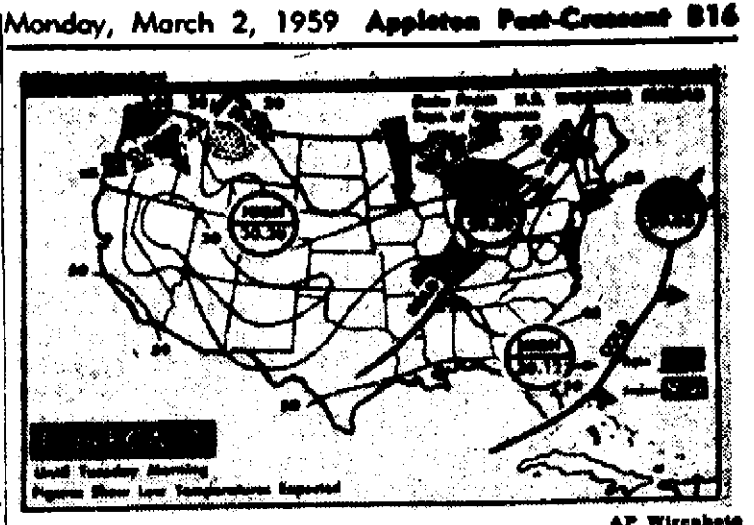

Then the overnight low was 25—a reading which, if it would have arrived at noon less than a month ago, would have caused many to believe that summer had arrived.

What's This?

But the weatherman, acting like a sophomore wooing a senior, is going to great lengths to get back in the good graces of the man on the street. To wit: The extended forecast calls for temperatures to average 3 to 6 degrees above normal. That's right, ABOVE normal.

Now don't let all this go to your head. Remember, you've got a lion on a leash. If tradition holds true, March will be, as the teenagers say, a real gasser.

Think we're lion to you? Just wait and see.

Showers are Expected Tonight over the Ohio valley and eastern lakes area while snow flurries are forecast for the northern lakes and northern Rockies. Some showers may fall over the north Pacific coast. It will be colder from the Rockies eastward to the Great Lakes.

In Emergency, Phone Red Cross 3-4481, Day or Night

Red Cross Home Service touches only those who have emergency need. Yet, if you do have an emergency, it's comforting to know you'll find help if you call Red Cross, 3-4481, day or night.

Last year, 333 servicemen at stations around the country or around the world made use of this local Red Cross service. Perhaps the news received this way was happy news—a birth announced. Or, it may have meant an urgent communication for emergency leave connected with a family death. In any event, 333 local servicemen have reason to feel kindly toward Red Cross.

Others who received important Red Cross help from Home Service, when it was needed, included 95 veterans and 66 non-military citizens. Families hit by fire, or others with real human emergencies too big for them to handle, these were helped by local Red Cross Home Service.

Remember, such help is available at all hours, day or night, phone, Appleton 3-4481. Clip this ad and save for emergency!

All you are asked to do to keep such a vital service ready for local emergency is to renew your membership in Red Cross. This year, enroll your entire family in a Joint Family Membership.
